NAZIS SMASH AMERICAN LINE

Red Army Rushes Through German Caucasian Lines

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (AP)—The red army is smashing westward and widening its wedge in the Kharkov and Kursk regions at the northern end of the active Russian-German battlefront, and its columns have pierced deeper into Donets basin territory in drives threatening the Germans retreating from Rostov, the Russians announced today.

Some of the actions were described as cleaning out the remnants of German strongholds left in the rear of Soviet troops which had swept around them for spectacular gains.

"West of Kharkov our troops continued their successful offensive, inflicting heavy blows on the remnants of routed German units," the Russians said. "The Hitlerite path of retreat is covered with the bodies of dead enemy officers and men as well as with abandoned German heavy and light arms."

100 Tanks Destroyed

The destruction of 100 German tanks and other enemy war gear in a town north of Kharkov was recounted in the Russian noon communique as recorded by the London Soviet radio monitor.

The armies of Col. Gen. F. I. Golikov which had taken Kharkov were pushing forward on the front and a flank attack carried a column into a town where it fell on the enemy's materiel, the Russians said. (London informants said the thrust from Kharkov apparently marked the start of a race for the upper reaches of the Dnieper river, where Hitler's battered invasion armies are expected to make their next major stand.

Other Advances

Between Kharkov and Kursk, a column apparently operating from the newly-captured base at Kursk, took Graivoron, only 20 miles north of Belgorod-Kiev, the Russians said, and then advanced into another unidentified city after beating down fierce counter-attacks.

North of Kursk a number of towns were captured and northwest of the city and west of Fatezh Soviet units forced a water crossing and stormed into another large town, it was announced.

(Possibly the latter city was Dmitriev, which lies across a tributary of the Seim river. The offensive in this region threatens to fashion a pincers from the south about Orel, the last remaining German stronghold on the line from which they launched last summer's offensive.)

On the southern front menacing the Germans left in the Donets basin, the Russians announced the recapture of Slavyansk, a rail center 85 miles north of the positions where Russian units previously had thrust to Kramatorsk.

Other towns also were taken in the Kramatorsk sector, extending a clamp to be laid about Stalino.

SENATE RECEIVES ECONOMY BLOC'S FUNDS MEASURE

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—A $2,616,972,913 appropriations bill, bearing the clear imprint of the house economy bloc's new dominance, was turned over to the senate today minus the funds sought by President Roosevelt for the national resources planning board.

A last minute attempt to preserve the board's framework by changing its name and providing it with $415,000 to continue its work ran into a parliamentary snag just before house passage of the measure. Chairman of the board is Frederick A. Delano, the President's uncle.

"Did Fair Job"

The move to save the board was made by Rep. Magnuson, D., Wash., who declared "this agency has done a grand job, a constructive job."

Rep. Taber, R., N. Y., ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, countered that the board not only was "absolutely useless" but was a "menace to the country" as well.

It was not the only setback for the chief executive, who earlier in the week had chided congress for eliminating the funds and maintained that those who would abolish long range planning were likely to prove to be the spendthrifts.

Cut Budget Bureau

The house, on a party vote with Republicans pressing the issue, cut $10,000 from the budget bureau's allotment over the protest of Rep. Woodrum, D., Va., that it was the only executive agency the president has to supply him with confidential fiscal facts "in these tremulous times."

Through yesterday's debate the Republican minority had the votes on the floor and kept them there, while there were several absentees on the Democratic side.

Biggest cut in the appropriations bill, which bundles up the fiscal needs for a score of independent federal agencies, was one of $3,831,466 in the $12,142,000 allotment for the federal home loan administration.

Burley Aviator Awarded Medal

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Among the 200 United States airmen who received air medals for bravery in action was Staff Sgt. Burna Richard Dayley, 22, Burley, Ida., the U. S. army headquarters announced.

BURLEY, Feb. 18 — Staff Sgt. Burna Richard Dayley, known here as Dick Dayley, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Dayley, farmers living southeast of Burley. Born here May 31, 1920, Sergeant Dayley was graduated from Burley high school in 1939, and inducted into the army March 23, 1942.

He was sent to England last October. A gunner in a bombardment group, he has been over Germany a number of times. His parents last heard from him several weeks ago.

Gandhi Condition Growing Weaker

BOMBAY, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, 73-year-old Indian nationalist leader, is growing steadily weaker in heart and mind in the ninth day of his fast against internment, a government bulletin said today.

The morning medical bulletin said:

"Although Gandhi slept a total of nine hours, he is not refreshed nor mentally alert. There is other evidence of uremia which is progressive. Heart action is feebler. Anxiety for his condition deepens."

U. S. FORMS 6TH ARMY IN PACIFIC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The arrival of Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger in Australia to take command of a new field army of American troops, the sixth army, to be made up of units already in the southwest Pacific, was announced today by Secretary of War Stimson.

Krueger, formerly commander of the third army with headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., went to Australia at the request of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Stimson said, because the strength of American forces in the southwest Pacific has reached such proportions that the organization of a field army there appeared desirable.

MacArthur retains his post as commander-in-chief of allied forces in the southwest Pacific, and Stimson said also that Krueger's new assignment would not affect the status of Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger.

Eichelberger, the secretary said, is a corps commander.

Stimson added that he has had "a very gallant record" in the field command of troops during the Papuan campaign in New Guinea.

Krueger is succeeded in the Third army command by Maj. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, who becomes a lieutenant general by virtue of his new job.

Gooding Sergeant On Wounded List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The war department today released a list of American army personnel wounded in action in the north African area. Some of the wounded on the list have recovered and returned to duty.

Among the 440 soldiers on the list were Pfc. Harry R. Vaughn, husband of Mrs. Doris J. Vaughn, Gooding, Ida.

State Appropriation Shows $200,000 Cut

By JOHN CORLETT

BOISE, Feb. 18 (U.P.) — If the Idaho legislature approves appropriations as submitted by the joint finance committee, approximately $200,000 would be saved as compared to appropriations made two years ago.

Remainder of the appropriation bills was introduced in the house today. Total figure for all (including the "school" bills introduced yesterday) is about $13,290,000, as compared to the $13,500,000 appropriated out of the general fund by the 1941 legislature.

It was noted the committee failed to heed Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen's request for an additional $1,000,000 for old age assistance, and instead appropriated for that department, approximately $25,000 less than two years ago.

The committee approved for the department of public assistance an appropriation of 4,440,531.94 as compared to the total for two years ago of $4,475,250.

The appropriations are for the fiscal biennium from July 1, 1943 to June 30, 1945, but are comparable to the 1941 appropriations for the 1941-42 biennium. The six-months appropriations for all departments covering the period from Jan. 1 to June 30 have already been passed.

The department of public assistance received $700,000 to operate the first three months of 1943 and will receive an additional $400,000 to carry it to June 30.

The bills introduced today covered all state departments and institutions not previously covered. Small savings were made in most departments.

Savings contemplated in the 20 to 25 per cent cuts in budgets of the state's institutions of higher educa-

SALE OF CANNED MEATS AND FISH 'FROZEN' BY OPA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.) — Canned meat and fish stocks, the latest objective of hoarders, were "frozen" on grocery-store shelves today.

All sales were ordered suspended without warning at 12:01 a. m., until rationing of meat goes into effect, probably about March 28, or for a maximum of 60 days.

The emergency crack-down on "panic-buying" was ordered by the office of price administration at the request of Food Administrator Claude R. Wickard. Officials said sales of canned meat and fish had skyrocketed in the past few weeks until there was danger that some of those items would be left by the time meat rationing begins.

Civilian Supplies Halted

Civilian supplies of canned meat and fish are very small and OPA officials said the "freeze" was designed to prevent hoarders from getting more than their share. Under rationing all persons will have an equal opportunity to share in the limited supply.

Relatively small amounts of canned meat and fish will be available for civilians even under rationing. Military and lend-lease orders will take 75 per cent of the canned meat, 80 per cent of the canned sardines and mackerel, and 60 per cent of the canned salmon in 1943.

The "freeze" was slammed down with the same suddenness as that which marked introduction of shoe rationing two weeks ago. Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown warned then that the same technique would be used whenever possible in the future.

Held Up Order

Emergency conferences were held at OPA, and a decision taken late yesterday to impose a freeze at 12:01 a. m. today. The announcement was held secret until 11 p. m., EWT, last night, to prevent a last-minute panic rush before groceries and delicatessen stores closed.

All meat, fish and shellfish packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by use of heat, are covered by the "freeze" order. Pig's feet, pig's foot tidbits, dried beef in glass and other items which are not sealed and heat-treated are not included. Pharmaceutical products also are exempted, along with products containing some meat or fish, such as pork-and-beans and clam and fish chowders, which are to be rationed under the regular canned goods rationing scheme.

Types of meat chiefly affected are brains, chili con carne, meat loaf, meat spreads, vienna sausage, bulk sausage, chopped luncheon meats, tongue and potted meats. The principal fish items affected are canned salmon, sardines, tuna, tuna-like fishes and mackerel.

The "freeze" applies all levels, except that wholesalers may acquire stocks of canned fish. Wholesalers must, within 15 days, report to the OPA for each wholesale establishment their inventories of canned meat and fish held on Feb. 17, 1943.

Africa Fight Film Will Be Released

Filmed by army and navy cameramen, the picture shows combat action in Algeria and Tunisia.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek Raps Plans to Beat Germany First

By PEGGY POOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek today denounced the "prevailing opinion" that the defeat of Japan is less important than the defeat of Germany and urged congress to lead the way in formulating one corporate body of all nations after the war.

It was her first dramatic appeal to the American people for more aid for China "which has bled and borne unflinchingly the burden of war for more than five and a half years."

Before a hushed and crowded house chamber in her first public appearance, she praised America as "not only the cauldron of democracy, but the incubator of democratic principles." She hoped that the congress of that America would help make a post-war world in which it will be impossible for anyone to plunge future generations into another orgy of blood."

The address of the famous American-educated wife of the Chinese generalissimo was in impeccable English and woven into it were the sayings of old Chinese philosophers to illustrate important points.

She concluded with the philosophical advice from a nation long torn by war to one barely initiated in its hardships:

"From five and a half years of experience, we in China are convinced that it is the better part of wisdom to accept failure ignominiously, but to risk it gloriously.

"We shall have faith that, at the writing of peace, America and our other gallant allies will not be obstructed by the intrusion of contingent reasons of expediency.

"Man's mettle is tested both in adversity and in success. Twice is China's mettle on the parity."

Mme. Chiang left no doubt that her mission here, now that her treatment for an old injury has been pronounced successful, is to convince Americans that the Japanese are no less a dangerous foe than the Germans.

She prefaced her review of Japanese strength with this Chinese saying: "It takes little effort to watch the other fellow carry the load."

The prevailing opinion now, she added, seems to consider the defeat of the Japanese as of relative unimportance and that Hitler is our first concern.

"This is not borne out by actual facts," she said, "nor is it to the interests of the United Nations as a whole to allow Japan to continue, not only as a vital potential threat but as a waiting sword of Democles,

Axis Forces Drive To Within 14 Miles Of Algerian Border

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—German armored forces, slashing to within 14 miles of the Algerian border, have driven American troops from three more towns, and the Berlin radio broadcast an announcement today that the high command now considers the Tunisian offensive ended.

The first reaction here at allied headquarters to the Berlin announcement was that Marshal Erwin Rommel was not willing to risk a further advance westward in face of the threat of the British eighth army, which is rolling up toward his flank from the south.

American troops, evacuating the towns of Kasserine, Thala and Sbeitla, retired to strong defensive positions in the 4,000-foot hills west of the triangle formed by the three communities. United States casualties were reported to have been heavy and our forces were believed to have abandoned a considerable amount of equipment.

The drive which resulted in the capture of Feriana enabled the Germans almost to cut clear across the waist of Tunisia. Feriana is 14 miles from the Algerian border.

Some American troops already have reached the hills west of Feriana, it was said, and now are busy regrouping their forces for a determined stand on the high ground.

"Fighting was on a reduced scale yesterday," the communique said. "Leading elements of the enemy occupied Feriana, Kasserine and Sbeitla.

"Our fighters were active throughout the day over allied Tunisia. Our heavy and medium bombers attacked enemy airfields in Sardinia. At one airfield bombs burst close to a number of grounded aircraft. Four enemy fighters and one Italian seaplane were shot down by our bombers and their fighter escorts.

"Five of our aircraft are missing from these operations. During last night a few enemy aircraft dropped bombs in the Algiers area. There was a small number of casualties and some damage to buildings."

It was said that the Americans made little, if any, attempt to defend Kasserine pass, eastern gateway. Rather, it was an evacuation designed to let the U. S. troops into a better defensive position. The three passes lie at the feet of hills which rise to more than 4,000 feet in some places.

The American line now runs roughly from Pichon southwest toward Tebessa, inside Algeria.

American combat teams now are being concentrated on the eastern and western side of an important pass in the mountains behind Kasserine. In front of them the Germans occupy a wide stretch of tableland which descends gradually and almost uninhabited. In that position they are within range of American artillery.

Chase A. Clark Nominated for U.S. Judgeship

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Chase A. Clark, former governor of Idaho, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be United States district judge for Idaho.

If confirmed by the senate, Clark would replace Judge C. C. Cavanah who asked to be retired more than a year ago, but who has served much of the time since.

Clark, a Democrat, was defeated for reelection last fall by Republican, Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen.

He is the uncle of United States Senator D. Worth Clark, D., Ida.

BOISE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Chase Addison Clark, nominated today by President Roosevelt to be U.S. district judge for Idaho, was elected governor of the state in the fall of 1940 and served one term.

Before being elected governor, Clark served as mayor of Idaho Falls and practiced law in Mackay and Idaho Falls for many years.

Clark was admitted to the bar in 1904 and prior to that time was a farmer and miner.

He was born Aug. 21, 1883, at Hadley, Ind., married Jean Burnett, Jan. 10, 1908, and is the father of one daughter, Jean Bethene.

Judge Charles C. Cavanah resigned the federal bench in January, 1942, but has continued to serve at the request of the circuit court of appeals at San Francisco.

Clark is a Democrat and a Presbyterian, also a member of the Masonic, Elks, Eagles, Moose and Odd Fellows lodges.

HERSHEY DOUBTS ARMY WILL NEED MEN FROM FARM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, told a senate agriculture subcommittee today he believed it would be possible to maintain 11,000,000 men in the armed services without disturbing the 8,000,000 physically qualified men of draft age on the farms.

However, a senate bloc of more than 30 members, disagreeing with Hershey's testimony, drafted two bills intended to relieve the agricultural manpower shortage.

Would Require Release

Both introduced by Senator Bankhead, D., Ala., one would require release until Jan. 1, 1944, of all soldiers now in the United States who were engaged in agriculture prior to induction. Each man furloughed would have to agree to do farm work at prevailing wage rates or for compensation equivalent to army pay, whichever is higher.

The other provides that no draft registrant may leave an agricultural job unless the selective service board determines he should engage in some other employment in the best interests of the war effort.

4,435,000 Single Farmers

Hershey estimated that by next Dec. 31, there will be 435,000 single farmers classified in the deferred 2C listing and 2,627,000 married farmers in the 3C classification.

A senate agriculture subcommittee, meanwhile, voted to demand an explanation from military authorities of the needs for an armed force of 11,200,000.

Chairman Smith, D., S. C., said Gen. George C. Marshall, war department chief of staff, would be summoned early next week.

"We are going to find out who fixed this figure as the amount the army, navy and maritime commission will have to have," Smith asserted.

WAR STAMPS TO TOP DOLLAR DAY

Sale of war savings stamps will be featured by the merchants participating in the Twin Falls Merchants bureau's "victory dollar day" sale here Saturday.

C. C. Anderson company, J. C. Penney, Idaho Department store, Gambles, Eisenberg's, Van Engelen's, Hudson-Clark, Woolworth and Sears Roebuck will have stamp booths, while most of the others will feature the stamp sales at the cashier's desk or at cash registers.

The booths will be manned by women from Mrs. Frankie Alworth's committee of the county war bond sales organization. They will be on hand in the booths from 2 p. m. until closing time.

The Merchants' bureau committee pointed out that customers will have an opportunity to complete the filling out of partially-filled stampbooks during the day.

The Jaycee boondollers, will make their appearance on the main streets in a sport model roadster at 2 p. m. and will be available to purchasers for an hour, the time given them by the bureau to sell $100 in stamps. The boondollers will take part are Shirley Smith, Ruth Bilhao, Ruby Carlson, Hilma Sweet, Helen Jane Olin and Becky Victor.

ODT AGENT WILL HELP TRUCK MEN

Irving J. Webster, Boise, field representative of the state office of defense transportation, will set up an office at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Friday morning for the purpose of assisting commercial truck owners in meeting provisions of the ODT order for rerationing of war necessity. He will remain there throughout the day.

While in this territory, Webster, who is new to this area, will visit Gooding, Jerome, Hailey, Shoshone, Burley and Rupert.

He may be contacted as follows: Gooding, Feb. 20; Jerome, Feb. 21; Hailey, Feb. 22 from 2 to 5 p. m.; Shoshone, Feb. 23 from 9:30 to 3:30 p. m.; Burley, Feb. 24 noon to 5 p. m., and Rupert, Feb. 25 from 9 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Farmers to Get Gasoline Supply

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Prentiss Brown told Sen. Wheeler, D., Mont., today that the office of price administration is preparing to issue gasoline for non-highway purposes to farmers for six-month periods.

Brown, director of OPA, wrote Wheeler in response to the senator's query as to how farmers are going to be supplied with fuel for their farming equipment under present conditions.

"It is not the intention of the program," he said, "to cut down on necessary allotments of gasoline for use by farmers but we must not relax our vigilance over the use of rubber for unnecessary purposes."

Los Angeles Has Air Attack Alert

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Los Angeles underwent a 23-minute air alert last night.

Officials of the southern sector of the western defense command announced the alert began at 9:08 p. m. and ended at 9:39 p. m. when the unidentified target proved to be friendly.

It was the 16th alert of the war here. The last was called Dec. 17. Radio stations remained on the air, although civil aeronautics radios were silent.

U. S. SUBS BOOST JAP SHIP LOSSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—American submarines, playing a leading role in the war of attrition against Japan, have pushed the number of enemy ships sunk in the Pacific and Far East to 1,000, the navy disclosed today.

The navy's disclosure that far-cruising undersea boats had accounted for five more enemy activities pushed beyond the 200-mark the total of all Japanese ships buried in the Pacific graveyard. That figure does not include any sinkings claimed by airmen operating under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Of the 200 ships sunk, 115 were warships and 185 were combatants.

The latest haul of American submarines included two medium-sized cargo ships, a medium-sized tanker, a transport and an escort vessel. Three also damaged and probably sank a cruiser and damaged a cargo vessel.

Submarines alone have sunk 128 ships, approximately 40 per cent of the total. That, in the number of vessels actually sent to the bottom, submarines are almost [illegible] with aircraft as [illegible] counted for only a [illegible] of Japan's sea losses.

Observers pointed out that the conquest of Guadalcanal may provide the United States with a submarine base [illegible] the enemy's southwest Pacific strongholds. The deep water harbor at Tulagi, close by Guadalcanal in the Solomons, would be ideal for basing submarines.

ready to descend at a moment's notice . . .

"Japanese military might must be decimated as a fighting force before its threat to civilization is removed."

She praised the American naval victories at Midway and in the Coral sea, but emphasized that "they are merely steps in the right direction." The six months battle of Guadalcanal attests to the fact, she said, that the defeat of evil forces, "though long and arduous, will finally come to pass."

But, she warned congress:

"Let us not forget that Japan in her occupied areas today has greater resources at her command than Germany.

"Let us not forget that the longer Japan is left in undisputed possession of these resources, the stronger she must become. Each passing day takes more toll in lives of both Americans and Chinese."

Mrs. Chiang is the youngest daughter of China's famous Soong family. As the first lady of China she would, in normal times, be the subject of much fanfare and pageantry in this capital. Her charm and familiarity with the American scene would certainly make her the most-sought guest of honor by the capital's socialites—in modern history.

But every indication is that Mrs. Chiang is here "strictly on business" and her role will be that of stateswoman rather than social visitor. International politics are expected to assume top importance both in public and in her private conversations with her host and hostess—President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Chiang arrived yesterday from Hyde Park, N. Y., where she spent six days at the Roosevelt home. Although she is not here as an official representative of the republic of China, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt paid her the signal honor of meeting her at Union station—a ceremony usually reserved only for visitors of state.

Communities to Set Own Hours Of Registration

Although the Twin Falls county rationing board has set the period for registering for point rationing as from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. each day next week except Sunday and Saturday, administrators in the various communities may set their own periods, Carl N. Anderson, chief clerk of the board, said Thursday.

Registrations will be conducted in all the school buildings of the county with the principals as administrators.

"As some of the districts are small, there would be no point in their keeping open for the full time set by the committee," Anderson declared.

He said that the Murtaugh administrator has announced that registrations would be conducted there from 2 to 8 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Anderson stated that members of the sheriff's office have begun the delivery of supplies to the school buildings.

MADAME CHIANG DRAWS OVATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.) — Mme. Chiang Kai-shek received prolonged and rousing ovations in congress today from members and packed galleries.

Vice-President Henry A. Wallace presented her first to the senate, where she spoke briefly and extemporaneously.

She said that she was overwhelmed by her reception. She said she had not known she was to speak to the senate until she was notified of the plan by President Roosevelt.

"I am not a very good speaker," she said as her listeners smiled. "As a matter of fact I am not a speaker at all."

She took courage, however, from her experience at Hyde Park, where she visited Mr. Roosevelt's library and saw some of the drafts of one speech. President Roosevelt told her that sometimes he makes 12 drafts of an address.

Attentive Senate

"I hope you will not expect too much of me," she said.

Mme. Chiang spoke clearly and distinctly to the hushed and attentive senate.

"There is a traditional friendship between your country and mine," she said. "I feel that there are a great many similarities between your people and mine. These similarities are the basis of our friendship."

To illustrate, she told this story. "When General Doolittle and his mission went to bomb Tokyo, some of your boys had to bail out over China. I had lunch with some of those boys.

Knew One Word

"One of those boys told me a little story of his parachute landing.

"He told me that he felt that he had come home, but it was the first time that boy had ever been in China.

"I came to your country as a little girl. I spent the formative years of my life in your country. I speak your language."

"In coming here today, I feel like I also come home."

Camilli Decides To Quit Baseball

LAYTONVILLE, Calif., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Dolph Camilli, veteran first baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers and one of the best batters in the baseball world today, he had decided definitely to quit baseball.

The two cars were a light sedan driven by Leavon Buchanan, route one, which was going north, and a light pickup truck driven by Desmond Humphrey, 268 Ramage, which was going south. It was the left front of both cars that was damaged, indicating, it was told, that one or the other, or both watched the bridge rail closer than the other car. The truck is owned by Alex Humphrey.

$200,000 SLASH IN FINANCE BILL

tion, were eaten up in a bill to provide an additional $500,000 to the common schools.

Both houses convened today as of the 45th legislative day, and after the introduction of the appropriation bills, adjourned to start the 46th day at about noon. The clock was stopped last night to allow a portion of today to become the 45th day, deadline for introduction of appropriations bills.

It can be expected the school bills will be subject to controversy when they arrive on the floor for passage. Senators have expressed opinion Lewiston and Albion normals should be closed for the duration and others feel the common schools should get less instead of more than two years ago.

The house yesterday in committee of whole killed a measure which would legalize slotmachine and beer taverns on Sunday and force them to close at midnight on week days. The enacting clause was stricken and amendment and the bill was later laid on the table.

Otherwise, legislative action was routine. The senate passed and sent to the governor, bills providing for sale of state timber by scaling, rather than by cruising and to allow the land commissioner to sell sand and down timber for commercial purposes.

Court Will Rule On Dress Damage

Probate Judge C. A. Bailey took the case of Florence Loving vs. the Royal Cleaners under advisement after hearing the evidence. He will return a decision later.

The plaintiff contended that the cleaning company used scissors to remove a spot from a dress, without her authorization, and asked judgment for $40.

The defense insisted that the plaintiff authorized such action as might be necessary to make the dress wearable, and that alteration was found necessary.

Judge Bailey said he planned to examine the dress, which he had in his office, before coming to a decision.

SINCLAIR FAVORS BIG OIL MERGER

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Oilman Harry F. Sinclair today had virtually invited the government to issue a directive consolidating the oily industry and automatically closing two-thirds of the gas service stations in the nation.

This expedient is necessary to the "winning of the war," Sinclair said in a prepared statement released here by an assistant, D. T. Pierce, who said Sinclair believed this was the only "out" for the oil industry and was "willing to let the chips fall where they may."

Closing of all bulk plants, supply outlets and service stations not essential to the limited needs of each state and community would immediately create a manpower group which is not at present available to war industries and the "problem can not the sidestepped any longer," Sinclair's statement said.

He said the industry had recommended consolidation of marketing facilities and had been urged by a directive from the petroleum administration last September to economize on labor and materials by "joint use of facilities," but that "practically nothing" had been done by the industry in this direction.

Sinclair cited surveys to prove his theory that oil stations and services should be closed up, except the minimum necessary to provide central outlets in each community.

In California, he said, a marketer had advised that 1,070 bulk plants could be reduced to 150 plants and that 15,940 primary and secondary retail outfits could be reduced to one-third that number.

Sinclair's spokesmen said his recommendations were being sent to Manpower Commissioner McNutt, Petroleum Coordinator Ickes, WPB Chief Nelson, OPA Chief Brown and Deputy Petroleum Administrator Davies.

AGES OF WAACS PROVE SURPRISE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Roosevelt, telling her press conference of her weekend trip to WAAC training centers at Des Moines, Ia., and Kansas City, said the thing that impressed her most was "the general alertness of all the women." She also noted that many of those enlisted were between the ages of 30 and 40, instead of younger as she had expected.

Mrs. Roosevelt asserted that she still thinks there should be a nationwide registration of women and their skills to "help in efficiently using your womanpowers."

She said she had been told such registration is opposed on the ground that women "would expect to have jobs immediately." She asserted that she was not at all sure that would be the result.

Mrs. Roosevelt reiterated her opinion that a year of service to their country should be required of all young people and that could include "some shorter period of basic military training." But that doesn't mean conscription, she said.

LIVE INCOME OR DEAD ASSETS

Undoubtedly the best answer given to those who talk about a $10,000,000,000 loss to the government if the Ruml pay-as-you-earn income tax proposal is adopted was Mr. Ruml's own.

His plan would benefit the treasury, Mr. Ruml contends, by substituting live income for dead assets.

It is the money in one's pockets that pays for purchases—not the "accounts due."

Perhaps by accident—though it would appear to be by deliberate intent—the Ruml plan has been made to appear complicated. It is not. The many half-considered alternatives are. But the Ruml plan itself is so simple that any taxpayer can understand it.

Beginning whenever congress may decide —provided public opinion wins this tax war —we taxpayers will have income tax payments deducted weekly from our pay envelopes or other sources of income.

March 15, 1944, and annually thereafter, we will report to the treasury on our year's income. Most of the tax will have been paid. If there is a balance due, either way, the adjustment will be made.

That is all there is to it. The rest is a mass of complication introduced either to befog the issue or from honest inability to see through a clearcut proposal.

To avoid windfalls—to see that high income persons do not profit from the setting ahead of the tax clock—when such a person dies there would be a special death tax to recover what otherwise might have been lost.

The public understands these things. Otherwise the public would not be so nearly unanimous in its demand that the Ruml plan be adopted.

The public realizes that few persons can pay two years' taxes from one year's income. the public knows that few persons actually saved, out of 1942 income, the money with which to pay their tax this year, but that most of us, rather vaguely, thought that we would manage to dig it up somewhere.

What the public understands so well congress is certain to comprehend if the people continue to let congress know how they feel.

Have you told your representative and your senators how you want them to act on a pay-as-you-earn income tax?

THE 48-HOUR 'LAW'

Perhaps you were one of those who, listening to early morning news broadcasts the other day, heard one major chain announcer repeatedly speak of the 48-hour minimum work week ruling as a "new law."

He was wrong, of course. The expression was just a slip. It is important only because it betrays a trend which many regard as unfortunate—an increasing tendency to forget that in a democracy congress makes laws and the President enforces them.

The 48-hour work week order announced by Stabilization Director Byrnes was no more than a presidential decree in pursuance of general powers conferred upon the White House by congress to facilitate prosecution of the war, militarily and industrially.

The criticism is that it leaves all excess work over contract maxima—usually 40 hours but sometimes as low as 35—to be compensated at time-an-a-half and even double time rates.

This has the effect of raising average wages per hour by at least 8 1/3 per cent at a time when Mr. Byrnes is worrying about how to siphon off excess income which is contributing to inflation.

The only feasible way that will be found, judging from past history, will be higher taxes and new compulsory savings measures, which will be applied equally to the beneficiaries of the premium pay schedule and to the greater number who are struggling to get by on incomes frozen at lower levels.

So once again, to preserve "labor's gains," everybody else is going to get squeezed.

That is one of the things that happens when democratic processes are discarded in favor of broad grants of power to an executive who without pressure of public opinion formulates and proclaims major public policy.

The current illustration is not so good as the $25,000 net income ceiling order. But it does serve to show that we still are in an era of "administrative law," and it raises the question whether we get as good law in that way as through the orderly processes established by the constitution.

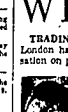
SUPERIOR POWER

Nazis have explained officially that their troops in Stalingrad were destroyed by "the superior power of the enemy" Russians. This, obviously, is the explanation of what happened.

It becomes intriguing, however, when one remembers that more than a year ago the Germans "officially" had completely destroyed the Russian armies, and needed only to mop up guerilla remnants.

Somebody in Germany must have been an optimist in those days. Are there any left now in the reich?

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG



RAY TUCKER

TRADING—The suspicion that Washington and London have already engaged in preliminary conversation on postwar parceling of the world's commercial and strategic interests lies behind congressional demands for a showdown prior to renewal of the lend-lease arrangements which expires on June 30.

Distrustful of private pourparlers between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and mindful of past diplomatic losses in similar negotiations, legislators want a definite understanding about Anglo-American supremacy right now. In view of F.D.R.'s habit of making agreements which do not require senate sanction, congress figures that its only controlling weapon is its power to modify the conditions under which we shall continue to forward food and munitions to our allies. There is no disposition to withhold further aid but realistic members insist on a 50-50 break.

Clare Luce was the first to dare publicize this attitude when she discussed the question of freedom of the air which at its implications. Although a loyal supporter of the administration, Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland thinks we should obtain perpetual leases of British bases in this hemisphere in return for the billions of dollars' worth of supplies we are furnishing the empire. And Secretary Knox, with amazing audacity for a cabinet member, declares that we should put in a bid for retention of Pacific Islands while the trading is good. Perhaps no one has expressed capitol hill's point of view more forcefully or graphically than the Connecticut congresswoman.

"When two men ride a horse," she told the writer, "somebody has to ride in front. I think England and the United States must work forth in any postbellum universe. But I think that Uncle Sam ought to sit nearer the horse's neck."

PROTESTS—Frank Knox has been severely lectured by both Democrats and Republicans at recent executive sessions of the house appropriations subcommittee which handles naval funds. Chairman Harry R. Sheppard of California and J. William Ditter, assistant Republican leader, have warned him that he must account for every penny he receives from them.

But the boys softened their ultimatum by congratulating him on his performance as secretary. For one thing, he has chosen capable men for key posts. He did not hesitate to supplant Admiral Stark as chief of naval operations with a more aggressive figure—Admiral King. He backed King in substituting Vice Admiral William F. Halsey for the nonfighting Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley in the Solomons area. He relied on the opinion of field experts when they recommended an all-out attack on Japan's periphery of islands, even though failure might have cost him his official head. He delegated command of navy yards to Assistant Secretary Ford, who has quietly smoothed out difficulties with the unions.

The Chicago publisher gets along well with the press. He is accessible and informative, regardless of the fact that he did not tell the whole truth about Pearl Harbor in his original report on that disaster. But he gave all the details a year later, despite protests by Elmer Davis of OWI. He had the courage to repudiate a communique which pictured nipponese movements as portending a major attempt to recapture Guadalcanal. Within the limitations imposed by strategic needs and the White House he has played fair with the public.

GRATUITY — Anti-Roosevelt Democrats in the house have hit upon a technique for hazing the President without appearing to be motivated by a party mutiny. They simply step aside when Republicans aim a blow at F.D.R.

Most spectacular demonstration of the new method was staged the day the house body voted on Mrs. Keefe amendment to the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill. This provided that federal agencies must pay for their postage instead of sending out reiects, pamphlets and booklets under free frank, a practice which costs taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

The Wisconsin associate's proposition was bitterly fought by administration helmsmen. With 1944 not so far distant they want to retain the privilege of flooding the country with departmental propaganda. But it was carried by four votes. It would have been defeated but for the absence of three important majority colleagues from the south who are chairmen of weighty committees. They did not have sufficient interest in the issue to walk a hundred yards from their offices to the chamber.

The bar to free mailing may be eliminated before final adjournment. But the temporary acceptance serves as a notice to lavish users of this gratuity that the eyes of congress are upon them.

EXTRAVAGANCE—Stuart Godwin, former Washington newspaperman now associated with the Reconstruction Finance corporation, sent the following telegram to Eddie Rickenbacker after his rescue in the southwestern Pacific:

"You are a lucky bum. You will probably live to be a hundred and ten and be hanged for disturbing the peace."

"Yes," replied the man with the charmed life, "you are probably right. I have no doubt that I shall come to some subconsciousness end."

Rickenbacker's old acquaintances report that his harrowing experiences have transformed him. He has become an evangelist without knowing it. There is an unworldly gleam in his eyes and a quaver in his voice these days.

But administration friends wish that such a dramatic figure would emphasize other subjects than what he calls governmental extravagance and inefficiency in the conduct of the war. It is doubtful whether he will ever again be sent on an official mission by the war department.

Other Points of View

MORE HORSE-PLAY AT BOISE

The legislature is again giving consideration to two perfectly worthless measures, one prohibiting all tobacco advertising on outdoor signs and the prohibition of all wine and liquor advertising in any form.

While it is inconceivable that either measure will pass, or if will be signed by the governor, it does seem ridiculous that the time of our lawmakers and the money of the taxpayers should be wasted in arguments over idiotic propositions such as these.

Magazines and outdoor signs now circulate throughout the state; Idaho citizens hear programs over out-of-state radio stations. As we have said time and time again in opposing such legislation, if we could hope to build a fence around Idaho and build, within our boundaries, any sort of a little Cinderella Utopia. Why not quit trying?

If not already, then certainly within a few days, some Idaho citizen will suggest a tax on tobacco, and he'd probably be a potato raiser who would moan to the high heavens if Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky—or any of the other tobacco-raising states—would even casually "tax" Idaho potatoes.

We lay no claim to any great amount of intelligence, but we fail to understand why it seems impossible to have a meeting of an Idaho legislature uncluttered by an avalanche of this type of silly legislative proposals.—Pocatello Tribune.

THEY CAN HAVE IT

In Joe Goebbels' recent speech, battling for Hitler, the nazi yes-man said: "All that has been done since 1933 in Germany under the new leadership in economy, culture and social development, is so unique that nothing in a democratic country can be compared with it."

Thank God for that!

"Only fascist Italy," he continued, "has done anything comparable in its internal construction, thanks to the duce." Thank God also for that.

Seeing what a criminal and hopeless mess those two nations, under their wonderful leaders, have made of themselves and all the world, if that is the best they could reach, the free nations are more convinced than ever of the rightness and wisdom of their own systems.—Caldwell News-Tribune.

GREAT-GRANDFATHERS

Pot Shots gave you yesterday the information that Will Norris, the 67-year-old telegraph messenger boy in Twin Falls, is a great-grandfather. Now we notice the following on the Associated Press wire:

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—Western Union officials here heard with amused grins that Twin Falls claimed some sort of record by employing a 67-year-old great-grandfather as a messenger "boy."

"That's nothing," said Supt. W. H. War. "We have three messenger 'boys' over 70. Their ages are 72, 73 and 75."

To which we reply that the Salt Lake gents missed the point. It's not Will's 67 years whereof we boast, but the fact that Twin Falls has a great-grandfather messenger boy.

What we want to know is: Are those Salt Lake "boys" great-grandfathers or aren't they?

IMPROVEMENT

Dear Pot:

Our dimwit (she couldn't pass the examination to be a moron) complained that her eyes hurt, and her sister said, "Well, Gertie, close your eyes."

"Hmmm," said Gertie, "that makes 'em feel better."

An hour later the sister noticed Gertie was running into things, and, upon examination, discovered that Gertie still had her eyes shut.

"Gertie," she commanded, "open your eyes."

Gertie did.

"Well," she said, "that's better!"

CLEARING IT UP

Pot Shots isn't sure but he suspects there volunteer lady "explainers" who will clear up the point rationing matter in the grocery stores come March are going to have a merry time.

Looking at our crystal ball we see a hint of what might happen.

"Well, first of all you can't buy anything if you don't have points."

"Oh, how much do they cost?"

"They don't cost anything. The government gives them to you."

"What, the government is finally giving something away?"

"Certainly. But of course, they aren't worth anything if—"

"Oh, I might have known there was a catch in it. The government never has given anything away if it was worth something."

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS

AS GLEANED FROM THE FILES OF THE TIMES-NEWS

15 YEARS AGO, FEB. 18, 1928

Construction of a new business block in Twin Falls was indicated in the announcement yesterday of the purchase by W. H. Burkholder of two lots at the corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue east.

Plans for the addition of 16 rooms with shower and baths in the Park hotel by raising the height of the main structure to three stories, were announced yesterday by Mrs. Anne Kisling, owner.

J. H. Butler went to Salt Lake ona short visit.

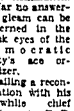
27 YEARS AGO—FEB. 18, 1916

Construction of a Western Pacific branch line from Wells, to Twin Falls, thus affording a new and more direct rail outlet from Twin Falls to the southern Pacific coast markets is a possibility held out by reorganization plans of the Western Pacific company.

In a furious high school basketball game at Filer last night Twin Falls decisively defeated the Filer team. The Twin Falls team was accompanied to Filer by a trainload of 60 students. The score was Twin Falls 43, Filer 14.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

IRISH—While Hoover and Willkie factions of the G.O.P. drift apart, Franklin D. Roosevelt appears to be inching his way nearer to James A. Farley in a supreme effort to overcome most formidable opposition to a fourth term nomination. So far no answering gleam can be discerned in the frank eyes of the Democratic party's ace organizer.



ALBERT LEMAN

Failing a reconciliation with his erstwhile chief lieutenant, F. D. R.'s strategy would it has been known to work before—will aim at kicking the props from under Mr. Farley in his own bailiwick. Prestige and eminence on the one hand and plum jobs on the other are dear to the heart of any political group. And those are what the President can offer.

It is in this light that insiders interpret a recent spurt of administration appointments and feelers. The old musical show hit, "If You're Irish, Come Into the Parlor," seems to be the theme song at the White House these days.

POLITICS—The maneuvers began when Big Jim split the Empire state machine from top to bottom by running Attorney General Bennett in last fall's gubernatorial stakes in the face of sharp disapproval of the squire of Hyde Park.

First, Admiral Leahy and former Justice James F. Byrnes were given tactical quarters in a new wing of the executive mansion, shared only by the omnipotent Harry Hopkins. Next came reports of ride-a-door visits by Ed Flynn of the Bronx. Collapse of the ambassadorial project perhaps was not the fiasco some people think. Shrewd Democrats argue that Mr. Flynn's supernatural ties in New York, Chicago, Boston and other big cities know that the big boss wanted to do something for a guy named Flynn and the Republicans stymied it.

Another unpublicized visitor to the Roosevelt parlor is William O'Dwyer, ex-district attorney of Kings county. The Democratic war horse was quickly subdued but they gave el caudillo a preview of what might happen should he unlock the Pyrenees door to the Germans. Spanish parish priests now openly denounce brown shirt ruthlessness in Belgium and labor leaders rage against the harsh Teuton business practices imported upon il duce's workingmen.

NOVELTY — Almost every day scientists produce new marvels. Smokeless powder is being made from wood pulp instead of cotton, a process which increases output 20 per cent and reduces operating costs. Dan manufacturers have discovered a substitute for tin plating. Dehydrated baby foods are the latest novelty. An inventor has captured the odor of the freshly ground coffee and concentrates it in an extract. Steel in springs is being replaced by wood.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

PROPHESYING A CHILD'S FUTURE

When someone gravely, with heavy emphasis announces, "That child was born to be hanged," or "He will go far in his field of art," or "He can never succeed in earning a bare living," wise people take the prophecy with a handful of salt. Nobody on this earth, be he ever so wise, ever so earnest, ever so devoted, can foretell the fate of a child, any child.

Every child born into the world differs from every other. Every one of them has some power, and often that power is hidden from everybody, even from the child himself. In its time it will appear, not before, and it will sustain the child in whatever field he may be at work.

Children are a strange mixture of all their ancestors. Something of each of his line is in him. When the time is ripe, the contribution appears. The expression may last a quarter of an hour, or it may last a lifetime, or a few years, or many years, or days, but nobody can foretell its effect or its duration. Time and experience alone bring the answer.

Tests Show Temporary Status

That is why an I. Q. in the hands of inexperienced, untrained people can work evil in children's lives. The test shows what the child is at the moment, on the basis of his experiences, under the influence of environment of the moment. It may hold for a day, a lifetime, but nobody really knows. The best we can do is guess, hope; and wait, meantime offering every possible experience possible to the child. The sin we commit against these children is our cut and dried sentence passed upon them without any real understanding.

When we say, "This child is a genius and must be prepared for his responsibilities," we make a mistake. Sometimes we are right, sometimes not. The best we can do is to train the child in the hope that we are right but always, and here is where the caution must be used, always without making the child feel himself a traitor, a failure, should we have guessed wrong. Leave the door open for his career with honor and no harm done him but close that door with finality, there is always the danger that we have wronged the child.

Leave Leeway for Changes

What about the backward one, the one who does not learn on time, the child who lags behind in his study, who finds home control hard to bear. Go slowly. Test each step. Take the results of the tests as helpful but not complete, useful but not binding. Leave the door open for this child's growth upward, and there will be less chance of doing him a lasting injury.

Often the expert in child training guesses right but there is always the chance that this child will in time, after new powers and provision must always be made for that joyful happening. Life follows no pattern accurately and nowhere is it more erratic than in the development of children. Go slowly, wait and hope but be careful to keep the door of your mind and that of the child's mind, wide open for changes.

Feeling children in a science adult must be mastered by parents, mothers especially. Angelo Patri discusses the entire problem in its proper relation to the child in his booklet, "Feeling Children," No. 3, 10c. To obtain this helpful guide send 10 cents and a three-cent stamp to Angelo Patri, care of Times-News, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

The United States army air force has received a new dive bomber that has a greater speed, range and striking power than any other dive bomber.

Republican probably will remain in the cabinet but Mr. Murphy, fresh from a military tour of duty, is considered by his friends well qualified for the exacting secretaryship.

Mooted also is the promotion of Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy to a whale of a new post in north Africa as special presidential representative to work in conjunction with the state department's Robert Murphy. His chief aide most likely will be Patrick Hurley, minister to New Zealand and one-time member of the Hoover cabinet.

The list is practically unassailable. Even where there is no direct link with partisan politics the significance of such a line-up—and other names might be added—will not be lost in great metropolitan centers which leaders and voters of Irish extraction dominate.

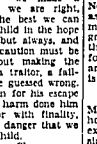
UPRISINGS — One of Hitler's greatest blunders is not recognized by most people because it was spread over widely separated space and time. Yet historians may rate the mistake as one of the decisive errors of the war. The fault is der fuehrer's utter failure in dealing with Latin peoples. He resisted them badly and failed flatteries, bribes and force to win them to his camp. Spain and Portugal evaded him, and he was outwitted by France, Italy let him down and now is a liability, for the inhabitants hate the nazis.

Influential Spaniards in New York point out that the Wilhelmstrasse was foolish to think these European nationalities because Germany is a land power and they are colonial empires. Mussolini alone swallowed the bait and Hitler got his overseas possessions. Madrid and Lisbon were too smart to help the reich against the United States and Britain, who between them rule the waves. Berlin wanted to save Tunis, Algeria and Morocco but since it did not have either shipping or navy it had to bargain with Vichy. Pe-tain stalled until Eisenhower* debarked; then it was too late.

When U. S. troops waded ashore at Oran a rumor spread through the Moorish hills that the Americans had landed in Spain. Immediately old civil war veterans dug out hidden rifles and commenced shooting Franco's gendarmerie. The uprising corner was quickly subdued but they gave el caudillo a preview of what might happen should he unlock the Pyrenees door to the Germans. Spanish parish priests now openly denounce brown shirt ruthlessness in Belgium and labor leaders rage against the harsh Teuton business practices imported upon il duce's workingmen.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS NATIONS AT WAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—It seems inconsiderate to be asking President Roosevelt to do more than he is doing. Yet something is badly needed which only he can do. The country needs to have put into focus its thinking as to come out of the war.



RAYMOND CLAPPER

A babel of talk is creating dangerous confusion and misunderstanding.

Here Rep. Clare Luce warns in the house of representatives that our government is about to surrender control of the air. But in London Air Marshal Harris in the house of commons demanding to know whether the British government is surrendering its air rights. Vice-President Wallace writes a magazine article about freedom of the air although there isn't yet a ghost of a government anywhere about any of this. Nor about much of anything else aside from the military program. Elmer Davis has an enormous propaganda setup but he has nothing authoritative to talk about except the four freedoms, because there isn't any government policy about what is to come out of the war.

A babel of talk is creating dangerous confusion and misunderstanding.

Here Rep. Clare Luce warns in the house of representatives that our government is about to surrender control of the air. But in London Air Marshal Harris in the house of commons demanding to know whether the British government is surrendering its air rights. Vice-President Wallace writes a magazine article about freedom of the air although there isn't yet a ghost of a government anywhere about any of this. Nor about much of anything else aside from the military program. Elmer Davis has an enormous propaganda setup but he has nothing authoritative to talk about except the four freedoms, because there isn't any government policy about what is to come out of the war.

I am not trying to be captious. Mr. Roosevelt has more to do than any other human being should be expected to do. And on the military side he has done it well. This is not to say that everything he does is right or wrong, because I don't think everything is going wrong. On the contrary most of it is going exceedingly well.

The war is moving fast and favorably. I don't find victory over Germany expected this year, but it is generally likely that next year the Russians are wounding the Germans deeply but another wallop or two may be left in the German army and then Hitler will have to get the Caucasus. This year probably will bring some other big victories over Germany. Turkey may come in on our side—it's a reasonable hope at least.

The Germans are going to be knocked out of Africa. Tunisia may be all ours in another six weeks. Secretary of War Stimson says we must be prepared for casualties there very soon, which is another way of saying that we are getting ready to go into action. The powerfully equipped British eighth army will provide the central blow, but we will be in it, plenty. We expect the Germans to fight savagely in north Africa but we are confident they haven't got what it takes to stay there. The Japs seem to be held in the Pacific.

At home, production is in good shape. Food, with the labor supply and inflation are severe, but no more than we should expect considering that violent changes have taken place in the life and work of the nation within the last year.

But there is a harmful delay here in preparing for what is to come out of the war. That is not a distant problem. The issues are already being discussed in the legislative halls here and in London. The administration here is not yet in a position to take the leadership in any of this discussion, or to do it wisely. Various administration officials shoot from the hip in all directions and leave the public more confused about the place than about the war.

Public opinion is being confused instead of educated.

Failure to recognize the importance of General Eisenhower as supreme commander in Africa is a fact that could be made to contribute mightily to closing the leglislative and bodmutual confidence among the allied nations.

But beyond the fighting people are developing only the early anxieties *of postwar rivalries, with no devel*opments toward anything to bind the winning powers together. That is what makes them afraid to the extent that a recent poll showed 60 per cent believing another big war would come in time.

These are harmful consequences, and the signs of disintegration that come from the administration's neglect to prepare for what is to come fact to face with the problem of how out of the war. Purple words have done about all they can do toward building a better world after this war. They are rapidly losing their force. Action and leadership by President Roosevelt are needed in this field—the kind of action and leadership that Winston is giving in the last war and that Mr. Roosevelt himself gave during the period leading up to this war.

President Melvin Beck presided. Gov. Eberle commended the Lions for the success of the recent victory bond drive which brought more than $60,000 U. war bonds. Beck extended thanks to the Rotary club for its assistance in the drive. Farmer responded in behalf of the club.

Lorne Lauder showed colored films showing the possibilities and pleasures derived from modern photography.

*Announcement was made con*cerning the charter night meeting, which will also be ladies night, to be held early in March.

HITLER MOVING FACTORIES EAST

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP) — Dr. Joseph W. Barker, special assistant to the secretary of the navy, said last night that partly because of persistent bombing by British-based planes Hitler began in August to move strategic factories in western Europe into eastern Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

In a speech at a dinner meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers, Dr. Barker said this industrial exodus by the nazis meant not merely the movement of factory equipment but in many instances the workmen as well.

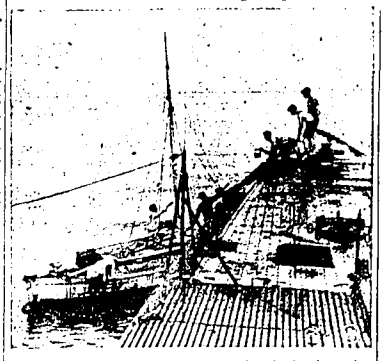
Referring to the difficulty the nazis had in recruiting workmen in the conquered countries, Dr. Barker said:

"But the nazis had a solution for this difficulty, too. When offers of employment were made to professional men or skilled workers and were refused the Germans confiscated the food cards of those who declined."

Referring to the problems the nation will face when the war is concluded, Dr. Barker said one of the most important tasks will be demobilizing 10,000,000 men under arms.

He suggested that demobilization be at a controlled rate similar to that used to induct men into the armed services.

U. S. Sub Lends Helping Hand



Somewhere on the broad expanse of the Pacific, the American submarine Wahoo, on patrol duty in enemy-controlled waters, has time to lend aid to crew members of a small, becalmed fishing boat. Food and water go over the side of the sub to six survivors of the original party of nine aboard the small craft. (Official U. S. navy photo)

USE OF CATTLE HIDE RESTRICTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The war production board today restricted the use of cattle hide and calf and kid skin leather to the manufacture of shoes, mechanical belts, work gloves, athletic goods, and a number of other articles classed as essential to health and industrial safety.

A number of common civilian products, it was provided, may be made from lightweight leather and under certain specified conditions. Among these are dress gloves, luggage, brief cases, upholstery, pocket books, hand bags, golf bags, cigar and cigarette cases, key cases, toilet articles, dog collars and watch straps.

Upholstery leather may be used for the repair of automobiles, railroad coaches and bus equipment, and for office and commercial furniture, it was specified. Bindings, corners and handles or luggage also may be produced without restriction.

Fairfield Minus Highway Outlet For Eight Days

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 18 — After being blocked by huge snow drifts for eight days, the Fairfield-Gooding highway has been opened by heavy equipment brought together at Gooding. Several attempts had failed to open the road previously.

Camas Prairie residents welcomed the mail truck which followed the snowplows, bringing them the first written and printed news in a week.

Tri-weekly train service was uninterrupted during that time, but mail is brought from Gooding by truck and could not be transferred to the train because of postal regulations.

PUBLIC UTILITY MEASURE PASSES

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 18 (AP)—Publicly-owned power had become the policy of the state of Washington today when a measure, designed to enable the people to take over private utilities in their entirety, became law.

The measure, most important issue before the 28th regular session of the state legislature, passed the house by a vote of 82 to 37.

The senate earlier passed the measure, 29 to 17.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie did not have to sign it as the initiative was presented to the legislature by a petition from voters.

Bolens said the measure sounded the death knell of private utilities and would involve an estimated $200,000,000 of properties.

The new law gives public utility districts the right to join one another in condemning, buying out and running a private power company, lock, stock and barrel. Heretofore, under the law, a public utility district went into the courts to condemn only a certain part of a power company.

112 Attend Fete Of Hansen Grange

HANSEN, Feb. 18—One hundred and twelve plates were arranged for fathers and sons at the Hansen Grange hall for the annual banquet sponsored by the Grange. Ten young women of the community served as waitresses. Patriotic colors were used in the table decorations with clever program placecards arranged by Mrs. Donald Dietz.

The speaker, E. W. Thompson, religious director at the Minidoka relocation camp, took the audience on a mental tour of Japan, outlining the religious life of its young men. He also told of the family life of the colonists of Hunt.

Other numbers on the program, announced by Bill Wiseman, "block buster" for the evening, included the dedication of the banquet to the boys overseas by Kenneth Naylor; "A Word From A Father" by Harry Prior and "Now Listen To A Son" by Roland Arment.

A surprise number was a dance by the "old gray mare"—with Nora May Teague and Mildred Miller, Kimberly, as characters and Mrs. Art Holden at the piano. Miss Lois Slyter sang "Roses of Pickardy" and "This Is Worth Fighting For."

Miss Maude Laycock played soft piano music during the supper. Arrangement committee included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Naylor and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scott, jr.

BUHL, Feb. 18—The Red Cross surgical dressing class has sent out its first shipment of more than 6,000 dressings. The class was organized a week ago under the supervision of Mr. John W. Wurster. Any lady wishing to help may call Mrs. Wurster.

Only Three in 750 Show Diphtheria

JEROME, Feb. 18 — Only three pupils showed presence of diphtheria organisms during throat cultures taken of 750 elementary school pupils in the Washington and Lincoln schools, it was announced today by Mrs. J. J. Struckus, county health nurse.

Treatment of the three will begin immediately.

The throat examinations were made by state and county public health officials and were diagnosed at the district health unit in Twin Falls.

SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UP)—"You will be very successful in your new position," Fortune Teller Shay, 40, told one of two women clients. He didn't know how right he was. He had told the fortune of Anna Sliva, a student policewoman; the other client was a veteran policewoman showing Miss Slaya how to get evidence. Shay pleaded guilty to fortune telling in court.

Thurman Burch Oakley's Bishop

OAKLEY, Feb. 18 — The stake presidency, Charles S. Clark, Moses S. Martin and George H. Severe attended the third ward sacrament services to install a new bishopric.

Bishop Lewis R. Critchfield with his counselors, George Jilson and Thurman Burch, were released. Thurman Burch was sustained as the new bishop with Ross Adams and Clifford Burch as counsellors.

Bishop Critchfield had served 23 years in the bishopric, nine years as first counsellor to Bishop John Adams and fourteen years as bishop.

Stake quarter conference will be held Saturday and Sunday. Elder Jeremy O. Smith, assistant to the council of the Twelve, will be present from Salt Lake City.

DRIVER FINED $50

JEROME, Feb. 18 — Virgil P. Larsen, 20, Jerome resident, was fined $50 Wednesday after he entered a plea of guilt to a charge of reckless driving in Probate Judge William G. Comstock's court. Larsen's license to operate a motor car was revoked until July 1, 1943.

EX-WIFE SPURNS ACCUSED SLAYER

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 18 (AP)—Never again does Mrs. Walter Duncan want to see her divorced husband, whose rifle bullets are declared by Coroner Jack Larry to have taken her layer.

She told Duncan so when they met at the county jail after she came to Las Vegas to view the remains of Russell (Buck) Cone, 37, victim of the shooting last Sunday morning.

Sheriff Glenn Jones said Mrs. Duncan, 37, refused to embrace her 66-year-old ex-husband and declared she hoped never to see him again.

Cone, who already had a wife, and the Duncans came to Las Vegas to seek divorces. They took lodgings together in an auto court in a strange relationship wherein the elder man posed as his wife's father-in-law, the sheriff related.

Mrs. Duncan told the sheriff that after she and Cone had obtained divorces they had planned to marry and have Duncan move in with them so they could "take care of the old man, who couldn't be able to work much longer."

District Attorney V. Gray Gubler said a murder charge would be filed against Duncan.

Appendectomy—Aboard a Sub

It takes plenty of concentration and other things to go with it to perform an appendectomy aboard a submarine, especially when the vessel is submerged in enemy-controlled waters. Here are Pharmacist's Mate (first class) Thomas A. Moore, left, of China Valley, Ariz., and bearded, thoughtful Chief Radioman Richard Siegall performing the operation on crew member George M. Platter aboard the sub doing patrol duty in the Pacific. (Official U. S. navy photo)

AUTOIST SEIZED IN LONG BATTLE

DEL NORTE, Colo., Feb. 18 (AP)—Railway patrolman John Hoover got his man—after an 85-mile-an-hour auto chase which ended when the speeder "parked" a racing automobile over a riverbank.

The driver, Hoover said today, identified himself as Leland Bert Rogers, 18, Mountain Grove, Mo. The officers described the arrest as follows:

Hoover stopped a car driven by Rogers for speeding. Rogers could not produce a driver's license so he was told to drive to Del Norte for examination. Instead of following, he sped ahead and upon arriving through Del Norte at 80 miles an hour.

With the patrolman in close pursuit, the two drivers exchanged gunfire. In a driving rain on Del Norte Hoover's car rammed the other machine into the ditch. The car overturned, pinning the driver underneath, but not seriously injuring him.

Hoover said Rogers was driving a car which had been stolen near Colorado Springs. In it were two rifles, ammunition, clothing to fit a hatchet, a shovel and a large supply of groceries.

Program Given at P.-T. A. Meeting

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18 — The P.-T.A. members and guests enjoyed a program given by the fourth students in the Lincoln auditorium. A large crowd was in attendance.

The first grade rhythm band under the direction of Mrs. Eileen O'Hagan, presented several numbers and Frances Tanaka sang, "God Bless America." Paula Marie and Dixie Lee Phelan and Mary Ann Kinney sang two three-part harmony selections.

A short playlet, "The Golden Hatchet," with Dickie Thompson, Hazel Schwartz, Shirley Drinkell, Lou Jean Trout, Jimmie Meyers, Eddie Kinney, Mary Dean Williams, Patricia Encinias and Billy Harger as members of the cast, was presented, directed by Miss Helen Cogswell and Miss Beth Wimmer.

Twelve girls presented tap dancing numbers, directed and accompanied by Miss Cogswell. A boys' glee club sang with Mr. Best, music instructor, as director.

Preceding the program a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Joy Thomas, president, in charge. Plans were made for a musical in March to raise money for the hot lunch fund. Committee appointed for arrangements included Mrs. Paul Phelan, Mrs. Ivan Coe and Mrs. Antonia Yraguil.

Mrs. Agnes Strunk read a short tribute to Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney, founder of P.-T.A.

Songs of 2 Wars Sung at Meeting

JEROME, Feb. 18—Songs popular in World war one and the present war and a patriotic skit were presented under the direction of Miss Vera Romaine at the Washington-Lincoln Parent-Teacher association meeting in the Washington school's recreation room. The meeting was in commemoration of Founder's day. A special candlelighting ceremony was presented.

Three Washington pupils, Joan Trappen, Dolores York and Rosemary Humphries sang "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Members of fifth grade and one sixth grade pupil presented the skit, "School For Victory." The cast included Charles Capps, Joy Lee Gibson, Dr Noel Nance, Eilene Meyers, Eugene Miller, Jack Adams, Lloyd Tankersley and Guy Callen. The cast sang the "Bombardiers Song," "Army Air Corps" and "Marines Hymn." Others participating in the singing were Dickie Hawley, Lloyd Smith, Joan Trappen, Rosemary Humphries, Betty Ann Coats and Dolores York.

A large birthday cake was served. The candlelighting ceremony was conducted by Mrs. William G Phoenix, Mrs. Marvin Cole, Mrs. Noel Gwartney, Mrs. J. A. Russell, Mrs. Alleys Hof, Mrs. Thelma Bacon and Mrs. Lloyd Gilmore. They were assisted by Mrs. Earl Davis, Mrs. J. D. Noland, Mrs. Orrin Griffith, Mrs. A. W. Hart, Mrs. Lee Cecil and Mrs. Maude Purdy.

Hostesses were Mrs. N. A. Spafford, Mrs. E. E. Adams and Mrs. Earl Davis.

Announcement was made that Charlotte Babcock's sixth grade room had again won first place in the parent attendance contest.

American boys of today are up to eight per cent taller and 12 to 15 per cent heavier than boys were half a century ago.

FINNS PUSH HOPE FOR ARMISTICE

By GLENN BABB
Wide World War Analyst

Finland is telling the world as forthrightly as she dares that she is just about ready to drop out of the war and that she hopes the United States can help her come to terms with her chief enemy, Soviet Russia.

Her spokesmen have insisted time and again that she is having no part of Hitler's megalomaniac attempt to set up a new order in Europe. She has not joined the axis and she insists that she has not been fighting the Russians anywhere except along her own frontiers. She considers herself free to make a separate peace at any time she finds it advantageous.

Chose Wrong Side

The Finns have felt for some time that they chose the wrong side back in 1941 when they elected to march into Russia at Hitler's side.

They are weary of their two wars with Russia and near the end of their resources of manpower and wealth.

A breaking of her ties to Germany obviously would be difficult. She is largely dependent on Germany economically, especially for food, and many German divisions, perhaps more than 100,000 men, are believed to be still encamped on her soil.

What Finland wants as the peace of laying down her arms is guarantees of her survival as a free nation. This, her press declares, can be assured only if other powers, meaning the United States, obtain the necessary pledges from Soviet Russia.

Difficult Aspects

Here is highlighted one of the most difficult aspects of the Interallied relations. While there is complete unanimity on the primary objective of destroying Hitler, important differences persist with respect to other members of his coalition.

Russia thus far, understandably, has had no help to offer us in our war with Japan. We remain at peace with Finland although consular, not diplomatic, relations have been broken. Both the United States and Britain look forward with skepticism to the problem of redrawing the frontiers of eastern Europe when the war is over.

Washington Cold

Washington thus far is cold to the Finnish overtures. Our minister, H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, recalled for consultations, remains in this country and latest Washington word is that there are no immediate plans for his return. But Finland's removal from the war would be a worthwhile success for the United Nations. It would mark the first breaking away from the Hitler coalition; it would free the Russian armies required to guard the 700-mile Finnish frontier; it would be a hopeful indication of the ability of Russia and her allies to settle some of the questions that still divide them. The surface chilliness in Washington doubtless covers some very careful study of these possibilities and perhaps even some action already in train.

M'NUTT DELAYS WORKING RULES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (U.P.)—War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt has signed the regulations implementing President Roosevelt's 48-hour work week order in 32 areas, but will delay announcing them to employers until Sunday, it was said today.

The regulations were approved late yesterday and distribution to regional and area WMC directors began immediately. Asked why employers were not being told immediately of the provisions of the regulations, a WMC official explained that directors heretofore had been protesting public release of orders before they were apprised of their content and effect.

However, the principal provision of the regulations is that employers who cannot increase production or release workers for other jobs through compliance will be exempted upon proving their case to area directors. Additionally, employers in essential industries with seven or less workers will be exempted, and it is expected that employers in non-essential industries employing less than 25 also will be exempted.

Two From Area in Famous Squadron

Two south Idahoans were members of the famous 19th bombardment group which distinguished itself in the south Pacific fighting, it was learned today.

One is Sgt. Anson E. McMurtrey, son of Mrs. Nell McMurtrey, Castleford. After training at Chanute field, Ill., Lowry field, Colo., and Sperry power turret school, he served a year and a half in Java, 10 months in Australia and two weeks in New Guinea as chief armorer and power turret man.

The other member of the famed squadron from this area is Staff Sgt. Harold W. Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomson, Buhl. He went overseas on Nov. 21, 1941 and participated in the campaigns in Java and Australia.

His father and only brother are in the service.

RICHFIELD

Mrs. Ira Coleman and two children, Paul, have left after visiting the A. H. Bowen family and her brother, Russell Rogers, who was home on furlough from Texas.

Mrs. J. T. McGaughey has been receiving medical treatment in Twin Falls for three weeks and visiting relatives.

Leon Moreland has been transferred to the Kimberly Tri-State lumber yard where he will be manager, Mr. and Mrs. Moreland have moved to Kimberly.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore at the Patrick nursing home.

Carl Paulson has returned from the shipyards at Richmond, Calif. He will work for his uncle, Andrew Paulson, at the lambing sheds until the farming season opens.

Stalin, Chiang Didn't Want to Meet Each Other, Speaker Says

By MERVIN SHOEMAKER

Frank Drake Davison doesn't blame Roosevelt and Churchill because Stalin and Chiang Kai-shek didn't drop in to make it a foursome at Casablanca, as some of the columnists do.

"Those two men (Stalin and Chiang) just didn't want to meet each other," Davison solemnly told a Twin Falls audience Wednesday night in the Twin Falls high school auditorium, "and I don't know what might have happened if they had."

Tells Background

It goes back, the speaker explained, to the death of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, China's first president, who had elevated Chiang Kai-shek from the ranks of the army. Although the two had had more or less of a working agreement with communists up to that time, Chiang became a counter-revolutionary and anti-communist when he took over the government. Sun Yat Sen's wife fled to sanctuary in Russia, and at about the same time her younger sister married the new head of the government, becoming the well known Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

"And did you notice," inquired Davison, "that Mme. Chiang arrived in this country shortly before Roosevelt left for Casablanca? You can get that Roosevelt had a good idea of what the generalissimo wanted when he went to the historic conference."

Speaker Davison was more successful in entertaining and informing his audience than he was in staying on his subject, which was advertised as "The Ten Men Who Had in Remapping the World," remarking that he would leave three Americans till the discussion period, in order to avoid even the suspicion of politics in applying the designations of greatness. Two of the men he did not refer to again, and the others were treated between learned—and interesting—discourses on nations and peoples and political systems.

The "Greats"

The "greats" he named were Churchill, Eden and Bevan of England, Stalin of Russia, Gandhi and Nehru of India, and Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek of China. Eden and Bevan were not brought up again, excepting in an off-hand prophecy that Churchill, Eden and Bevan might go places by forming a new political party in England.

Churchill was characterized as "a throwback to the Whig statesmen of the eighteenth century." Davison said it was the inspiration of Churchill's personality that stiffened England in its time of direct peril, and his natural capacity for leadership in such a time that caused him to be made prime minister.

"Churchill would not be the type to become great in creating something new," asserted Davison. "He is the type to rise to the heights of greatness at the prospect of losing something precious."

Stalin was introduced as the modern counterpart of Oliver Cromwell, another cold, ruthless realist who would let no obstacles stand in the way of the ends he sought. Davison said that October, 1937, the date that "nationalist" histories were introduced in Russian schools, marked the beginning of Stalin's efforts to meet what he recognized as a rising nazi menace. His sole aim, Davison explained, is to "save Russia."

India Big Problem

Gandhi and Nehru were handled together—with Gandhi getting somewhat the worst of it—in an exposition of the Indian question to which the speaker gave more attention than any other division of his lecture.

"India," declared Davison, "is the world's biggest single political problem."

Conflict of race and religion is blamed mostly for the problem presented. The Hindus, who constitute a majority, will accept Britain's offer of independence only if it includes all India. The Moslems will accept no independence plan which does not separate them completely from the dominant Hindus. The "untouchables" agree with the Moslems, because they are considerably better off under western domination, they reason, than under the oppression they otherwise would suffer.

Davison pictured Gandhi as capitalizing on the Hindu's love for mysticism and simplicity.

"Gandhi didn't wear a loin cloth when he was a lawyer in Cape town, South Africa," said Davison. "He wore a frock coat and a top hat, the same as any other lawyer. He says India should return to the primitive, but he had no such idea several years ago when an army surgeon removed his appendix in a modern hospital and he was hurried back to health by a Scotch nurse."

Calls Nehru Paradox

Nehru, president of the Hindu party, was portrayed as a collection of puzzling paradoxes, but nevertheless the best bet for the largest voice in Indian affairs, from the Davison point of view.

Educated in England and well acquainted with British leaders, Nehru wants India to have the improvements of western civilization as soon as possible.

In discussing the Chiang Kai-sheks, Davison said probably the greatest problem of China is hunger, and that great things can be expected if it throws off the Japanese aggressor, and finds a way to feed its hundreds of millions of citizens. He praised the efforts of the generalissimo and his wife in their work toward uniting China, as well as defense against the aggressor.

Going briefly into the world picture, Davison predicted a great increase in world travel after the war, because of the development of airplanes, and stressed the need of "understanding and good will" among the United States, Russia, China and Britain if peace is to be maintained in the smaller world.

Davison left his several hundred listeners hanging by a question mark when he furnished no "why" with his diplomatic answer to the only question asked in the discussion period.

Who are the three Americans on the "great" list?

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry J. Kaiser and Wendell Willkie.

Global Planner Henry Wallace was not mentioned.

Shrubs Discussed At Club Meeting

JEROME, Feb. 18—Garden club members met at the home of Mrs. George Petrie. Mrs. Estelle Ricketts and Mrs. Julian Ricketts discussed shrubs which are adapted to Idaho's climate. Coloration in the garden, giving emphasis to blending of yellows, was also discussed.

The club has undertaken the promotion of a campaign for more lilacs and syringa shrubs to improve the appearance of the city. Mrs. George Petrie and Mrs. A. L. Dewhirst were named as a committee for the project.

The questions of dehydration of vegetables from the summer gardens also were considered.

Resigned Police Chief Is Honored

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Snake River Valley patrol members met at Cassia county court house for a business session. Sheriff Lee Johnson, Jerome county, the president, presided.

A dinner was held at the Oregon Trail cafe in honor of Clarence Phillips, who recently resigned as chief of police at Burley. Saul Clark, sheriff of Cassia county, was named director from this county. Bill Groves, chief of police at Jerome, is secretary and treasurer.

Thirty-four peace officers attended. They represented the eight counties of southern Idaho.

FARM LOAN UNIT ELECTS OFFICERS

RUPERT, Feb. 18—The 20th annual meeting of the Rupert National Farm Loan association was held at the L. D. S. tabernacle in Rupert, with 147 present.

E. Ray Garner and J. R. Culley were elected directors.

Secretary A. C. DeMary's report showed the finances of the association to be in excellent condition with a total of over $8,000 surplus. The association is now serving 637 land bank and commissioner loans totaling over a million dollars. The delinquencies at the present time only represent .023 per cent of the total loans. No foreclosures are contemplated for the coming year and only one property will be for sale later in the summer.

J. C. McCausland, vice-president of the land bank gave interesting figures on the banks' excellent condition.

Ronald W. Purcell, Boise, state supervisor of the farm security administration, was also a guest and emphasized the need for more farm production this year to support the war effort.

After adjournment the directors met and organized for the coming year by the election of the following officers: Arthur T. Smith, president; Roy D. Larue, vice-president; A. C. De Mary, secretary, and Floyd J. Fruit, acting secretary.

The loan committee will be comprised of directors, E. Ray Garner, How ard E. Rue and James A. Handy with directors Smith and Culley as alternates.

Play Feature of P.-T. A. Meeting

GOODING, Feb. 18—The Parent-Teacher association met for Founder's day observation in the junior high school gymnasium. A play, "Pioneers Forever," was presented by members of the high school dramatics class under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller. The play depicted the ever present possibilities of pioneering which was in keeping with the founding of the P.-T.A. organization.

During the business session presided over by Mrs. Frank Varin, president, plans were completed for a cake sale to be held Saturday, beginning at 11 a.m. at the Gooding Standard garage. Proceeds will go toward the school milk fund. Posters for the sale were made by 5 grade school students. All members of P.-T.A. are asked to bake a cake.

A nominating committee was named by Mrs. Varin, composed of Mrs. P. E. Barrett, chairman, Mrs. Harry Edholm, Mrs. J. V. Bumgarner and Mrs. Leland Fielschman. The committee will report at the March meeting.

As a war effort project members were asked to bring waste fat and nylon and pure silk hose to turn in at the next meeting.

A large birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Varin and decorated with "Founder's day," was served with coffee. A silver offering was taken.

Brothers Finish Gunnery Courses

Two brothers who are graduates of Twin Falls high school have recently been graduated from service schools, according to word received here. They are Howard O. Feay, aviation radio man third class, and Staff. Sgt. Marc E. Feay, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Feay, Boise, former Twin Falls residents.

Howard, who finished high school in 1937, received his diploma from aerial gunnery school Feb. 8 and expects to be assigned to active navy duty soon.

Sergeant Feay has been assigned to a coastal patrol unit after completing a six-week course in aerial gunnery at Harlingen, Tex. A member of the 1940 graduating class of Twin Falls high school, Sergeant Feay will be seen in army movie short made at the Texas school which is soon to be released.

Firm Founded in 1901 Closes Doors

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18—Keefer and White grocery concern, established in 1901 by O. B. Keefer, Shoshone, and the late J. F. White, has closed its doors. It was damaged by fire in July, 1942, and its present owners, E. E. Chrisman and Harry Stoner, Shoshone, and Gilbert and Walter White, Jerome, had been holding a closing out sale since that time.

JEROME, Feb. 18—How the federal bureau of investigation is eliminating crime was the subject of an address by Arthur Webb, Twin Falls FBI agent, at a meeting of the Rotary club.

Other guests included O. A. Power, Chamber of Commerce secretary; Leon Weeks of the N.P.I.A. office, Gooding; Donald Matson, Scout tenderfoot; Bill Groves, chief of police, and Sheriff Lee S. Johnson.

LOST

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 18 (U.P.)—Newspapermen aren't the cynical, blase characters the movies would have you believe.

When a young woman entered the city room of the Great Falls Tribune and took off all her clothing, the reporters were startled and even embarrassed.

Blushing like schoolboys, they called the police.

The officers were flustered too but they wrapped the girl in a blanket and led her off to the station.

The girl, identified as Miss Antoinette Daniels, 23, said she had mistaken the Tribune building for her hotel.

She was booked on a drunkenness charge until she could recover her sense of direction.

NAZI FALL IN '43 SEEN BY WRITER

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—Dewitt Mackenzie, Associated Press writer whose column analyzing world events is published daily in more than 800 newspapers, has returned from a lengthy tour abroad with the strengthened conviction that Germany will be beaten in 1943.

"I am more than ever convinced," he reported on his arrival here after a four and a half months trip which took him as far east as Chungking, China, "that Hitler's back is broken—as a matter of fact it was broken last fall when he failed to march through into the lower Caucasus—and that we ought to dispose of the nazi all-highest by the end of this year.

Japan in 1944

"Most observers and military people with whom I have talked feel that Japan should fall by the end of 1944, if not sooner."

The veteran analyst and foreign correspondent left New York last September, and flew across the north Atlantic to Ireland. He spent five weeks in England, then went to Lisbon and down the west coast of Africa. Flying across Africa to Cairo, he remained five weeks in Egypt and on Libyan front. Visited British eighth army. En route to Chungking, he paused in Palestine and in India. After three weeks in India, on the return route, he visited Iran and Iraq.

MacKenzie, who cabled timely reports to his readers during his tour, will give a detailed summary of his fiadings in a series of columns beginning next week.

Terrific Striking Power

"One of the things that impressed me most," he said in an interview here, "is the terrific striking power being piled up by the United States, Great Britain and the other allies, and the rapidity with which it is growing."

MacKenzie said that the big task remaining for the United Nations is to "smash Hitler's strongest remaining weapon, which is his army, and that must be done on the battlefield. To use a term of which Herr Hitler himself is very fond, it must mean the 'annihilation' of the German army."

"That is to say," he continued, "the German forces must be so thoroughly crushed that they cannot fight again. Capture of territory means nothing—destruction of Hitler's military strength is everything."

Second Attack Spelled Doom For Chicago, Heavy Cruiser

By WILLIAM F. TYREE

WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Jan. 30 (Delayed)—The heavy cruiser Chicago, battle-scarred veteran of south Pacific fighting, sank in the tepid waters south of Guadalcanal last night after a furious Japanese aerial assault with bombs and torpedoes.

The Chicago and her fighter plane escort staged a gallant battle in the final attack at 4 p. m. yesterday, shooting down 12 out of 13 enemy torpedo planes that made runs against her battered hull. Seven planes were knocked out of the sky before reaching the cruiser but six were able to launch their torpedoes and one or more hit the Chicago.

A sad-eyed sailor of her crew said the 10,000-ton cruiser had been through "lots of hell" and yet always came back. This time her luck ran out.

Had Been Repaired

It was the Chicago's first battle since returning to the fleet after a trip to the navy yard to have her torpedo-ripped hull patched. She had been struck by a torpedo on Aug. 9 in the first battle of Savo Island in which the American cruisers Quincy, Astoria, Vincennes, and the Australian cruiser Canberra were sunk.

Earlier she had been virtually a one-ship fleet, patrolling between northern Australia and New Guinea. Almost daily she came within range of Japanese bombers and was attacked many times. The Chicago knew how to handle herself or she would not have survived.

For her last action she was with a task force of cruisers and destroyers guarding a successful expedition to reinforce Guadalcanal in the Solomons when the Japanese swooped out of the murk, cleverly using the quick-coming darkness of the tropics, and dumped a load of bombs near her fantail astern on Jan. 29.

Seamen manned their battle stations at the shrill whistle to general quarters and fought the Japanese planes as they passed over. But one or two of the enemy bombers checked through the anti-aircraft fire in the dusk and secured hits which brought the Chicago to a dead halt.

Damage control crews got to work and the cruiser was taken in tow. Before reaching the quieter but she were able to launch their torpedoes stripped from her decks and thrown overboard. A tug, hoping to save the stricken warship, took her in tow and pulled southward at slow speed.

Goes Down

But the Japanese seemed determined that the Chicago would not survive. Late yesterday afternoon a torpedo plane squadron found her. They slammed their tin fish against her starboard side as the Chicago wallowed almost helplessly in the swells.

The sea churned through the gaping holes in her hull and the Chicago settled.

"I'm sinking," she signaled the circling destroyers.

The destroyers moved in to take off survivors. Most of the crew had survived the bomb and torpedo pounding. About 95 per cent of them were saved.

Later, with her comrades standing by to watch her die, the Chicago took a sickening roll and plunged to the bottom.

It was her last fight and she went down gamely.

STIMSON DENIES BIG ENEMY DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of war Stimson said today that American forces in central Tunisia had suffered a "serious local setback" which "should not be minimized, but still less should it be exaggerated."

Reports are incomplete, the secretary told his press conference, but the American forces apparently have suffered rather heavy casualties in both personnel and equipment, with a number of tanks destroyed by German dive bombers in the fighting of the last four days.

Stimson said the axis attack against the relatively lightly-held American lines in central Tunisia came while the British 8th army in Tripolitania was occupied in reorganization and the British first army in north Tunisia was "mud bound," but apparently was intended only to widen the corridor along the coast between German forces in northern and southern Tunisia and was not the beginning of any large scale offensive by the axis forces.

Camp Fire Asks For Leadership

"Today is far from perfect, but deep in our hearts is the hope that tomorrow will be more nearly so. That tomorrow is in the hands of our young people. To give to that opportunity to youth is not the tasks of the few who have chosen to work directly with the young people—it is the task of every adult."

So states the national Camp Fire officials in an appeal for leadership.

Twin Falls has a number of groups working toward Camp Fire ideals, but many girls are still left out, because of the lack of leadership. The very girls who need Camp Fire most, according to Mrs. Blanche Teasley, local executive, are those who are left out. The goal in Twin Falls is to make Camp Fire available to those girls.

If you are a woman, you are wanted and needed as a Camp Fire guardian or a Blue Bird leader. The girls need the friendly guidance of an adult who, while sharing their fun, will help them get the greatest satisfaction from their Camp Fire activities. The qualifications are very few. The most important is a genuine understanding of young people and the desire to help them.

If you do not have time to be a guardian, stated Mrs. Teasley, register at the Camp Fire office to be a reserve corps leader, volunteering as willing to assume partial responsibility for a group already in existence.

The Twin Falls extension committee, who may be contacted in this work are: Mrs. Harry Knock, president of the executive council; Mrs. N. O. Johnson, city wide P.-T. A. Camp Fire chairman; Mrs. A. W. Morgan, Washington school; Mrs. Ralph Elliot, Lincoln school; Mrs. J. L. Berry, Junior-Senior high school; Mrs. Tom Speedy, Bickel school, and Mrs. John Bolton, St. Edward's.

PRO FOOTBALL PLANS FULL FALL SCHEDULE

Layden Sees Limitations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Professional football, like major league baseball, intends to carry on—but it won't be easy.

Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football league, said today he believes the circuit can continue "with limitations."

Layden, former Notre Dame football coach and a member of the famous Four-horsemen backfield in the mid-1920's, conferred with Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt and Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman yesterday.

Gets Encouragement

He said he had found "definite encouragement" for the league although McNutt was non-committal as to whether the players were essential and Eastman was equally non-committal on the transportation question.

"It may be like the early days of professional football," Layden said. "In those times the men played on weekends after working all week in factories. There's nothing now to prevent them from doing the same thing."

Schedules may have to be re-arranged to save mileage, preseason training sessions abolished and a great deal of the usual ballyhoo done away with, Layden conceded.

Have Definite Place

"But I think we have a definite place in the American scene," he said. "Football, of course, wants to help win the war more than anything else, but we think that so long as spectator sports exist we have a legitimate place."

Professional football and major league baseball — many of the minors have suspended for the duration —probably will be the nation's principal spectator sports. The armed forces are inducting most college players at 18 and over, which automatically rules out big-time college sports, and the best of the boxing fraternity already is in uniform.

SPORTS

Rupert Finally Downs Oakley

OAKLEY, Feb. 18—All things come to him who waits— even a basketball victory.

That's what Coach Rex Hunsaker of the Rupert Pirates probably said to himself after his aggregation walked off the Oakley floor with a 39-32 victory over the Hornets. It was the Pirates' first triumph in four starts against Coach Monk Halliday's quintet.

The Pirates became a "four-quarter" team instead of just a "three-quarter" aggregation. They jumped into an early lead just as they have in nearly all their contests this season, but instead of crumbling in the latter stages of the game as formerly they maintained their advantage to the end. The scores at the end of the first three periods were 14-8, 23-19 and 32-23.

Oakley won the junior varsity game, 27-21, and this also was a start of an upset.

The lineups and individual scoring:

Oakley (32) — Simpson (4) and Poulton (6), forwards; Peterson (4), center; Hansen (11) and Matthews (6), guards; Clark (2), Stanger (0), Whitley (0), Elquist (0), McMurray (0) and Mills (0), substitutes.

Rupert (39) — Garner (12) and Craven (11), forwards; Saylor (4), center; Balch (3) and Goff (2), guards; Turner (4), Berlin (1), Stapley (0) and Meslyn (0), substitutes.

Bobcats Beat Buhl, 39-19

BUHL, Feb. 18—The Burley Bobcats experienced little difficulty in defeating the Buhl Indians here last night, 39-19. The Bobcats led 10-5 at the end of the first quarter, 18-13 at the half and 27-14 after three periods.

Burley also won the junior varsity game, 30-27.

The lineups and individual scoring in the varsity game:

Buhl (19) — Hannan (2) and Eastman (7), forwards; DeNeal (1), center; Stewart (1) and Hustead (3), guards; Sisson (4), Olds (0), Carlson (1), Holmes (2) and Dey (0), substitutes.

Burley (39) — Garrett (8) and Klink (9), forwards; Evans (6), center; Roberts (9) and Bell (2), guards; Judd (0), Ferrin (0) and Haag (5), substitutes.

Charles Erny May Buy Phils

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 (AP) — Upon the revised calendar and enrollment in each institution concerned.

"For such athletics as may continue, provisions in the three presidents' agreement regarding eligibility of players and other related matters will be revised from time to time to meet conditions as they then exist."

Barrow Proud of Joe's Decision

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees was "proud" today that outfielder Joe DiMaggio had enlisted in the army.

"We always approve of our players going into the service," Barrow said.

Asked what DiMaggio's absence would mean to the Yanks in 1943, Barrow replied:

"I will tell you more about that at the end of the season. We still have a good pitching staff and a good infield."

Charlie Keller now is the only regular Yankee outfielder left. The gaps will have to be filled by Roy Weatherly, Tuck Stainback, Johnny Lindell, a reformed pitcher, and two youngsters up from Newark, Russ Derry and Bud Metheny.

ARMSTRONG SIGNS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—Henry Armstrong signed today to fight 10 rounds here March 2 against Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., Negro. They will come in at 145 pounds.

The Sports Round-up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—This is the day the Phils are supposed to be sold but nobody is taking much stock in that report except the National league. It's taking 4,655 shares . . . Add horrors of war: Marchy Schwartz, the old Notre Dame footballer, is teaching tennis and rugby at Stanford . . . When the Washington Senators re into training at Maryland U., Ossie Bluege probably will spend some time looking over Ernie Travis, who is playing basketball now but looks like a pretty good infielder in the same position his Uncle Cece used to play. They say he can hit, too.

SAY IT AIN'T TRUE, JOE

Without their jolting Joe DiMag, The Yanks can hardly cop that flag.

The Dodgers, minus Lippy Leo, Will likely get a verbal kayo.
That leaves the jints to go to bat on Bringing a pennant to Manhattan.

Every time a guy like Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams or Pewee Reese goes into service, fans start wondering if he'll be able to come back after the war . . . Our guess is that most of them will make the grade, if the duration isn't too long, because even if they can't play real major league ball for a while, the guys they'll be competing against won't be playing that kind either.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Members of several Toledo—golf clubs have volunteered to give one hour a week helping with the greenskeeping . . . And they'll probably get more exercise that way than they would hitting divots . . . Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the U. of Kentucky, promises that after the war the Wildcats will have a football team that can hold its own with the best in the Southeastern conference . . . Frank Melton, who first qualified as a Dodger by building a house and forgetting to put a chimney on it, is negotiating for a farm in South Carolina so he'll be able to eat in case anything happens to baseball . . . Tip in Canada is that if a service team wins the amateur hockey title it will challenge the National leaguers for the Stanley Cup, if there's time . . . But there never is time.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John N. Sabo, Detroit Free Press: "With the 45-hour work week becoming mandatory, we wonder if some of the baseball magnates will have their players cleaning up the park after the games to make up for lost time."

SPORT Spoubs

by Hal Wood

Well, I see by the papers again that the Idaho game department doesn't know its business. Or at least, so think a couple of residents of Lemhan valley (where is at anyway?).

The two, Joe Turner and Harriet (Babe) Hansen, have made the statement to Idaho legislators that the Idaho fish and game department is attempting to reduce deer population to the point where "survivors can't live on what natural food is left."

The valley residents go even further and point out that wild deer can be fed just like a cow or horse, it might cry "more collar" to that one.

Members of the Idaho state game and fish department never have had and never will have any inclination to destroy the game population of Idaho wildlife. On the contrary they plan just the opposite.

The difference between the department and the couple from Lemhan valley is the fact that the department has years and years of records behind its action, from thousands of people and hundreds of areas all over the world.

The game department knows exactly what it is doing in the locating and handling of Idaho's wildlife.

The claim that the department is slaughtering the deer herds so that the survivors can live on what natural food is left is correct. That is the only way that the herds can be kept intact. That is one way to prevent extinction.

Such veteran outdoor men as John Mathews, Minidoka national forest supervisor, will tell you that when a herd becomes too large it kills its own food and in this way that particular herd will finally become extinct because it is second nature for a herd of deer to graze at the same place year after year. The deer cannot be frightened or scared into going some other place— they return to the certain range spot just as a salmon comes up the stream to spawn.

I doubt that right now the state of Idaho would like to take on the task of feeding the thousands of deer in the various forests "just like cattle and horses."

However, even if such a plan were possible, I'll tell you it can be done on only a limited basis. Deer CANNOT survive, generally speaking, on hay and salt.

True, they will eat it and it may help some of them survive. But they have to have their natural food of bark and moss and twigs.

I'm not calling Mr. Turner and Miss Hansen liars, in fact, it is entirely plausible that they have fed a deer on "good Idaho hay and salt," as they claim.

It is possible that they happened to get hold of a deer or two that could survive on the "civilized" ones diet; it is possible that there are probably a few people in the U. S. who could also survive on hay and salt.

I would say that if the various "know-it-alls" would stop heckling the fish and game department and let it handle such matters as they should be, there would be more work done by all.

Adkison Approves Pioneer Decision

BOISE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Suspension of the Pioneer Baseball league for the duration of the war won the approval of Capt. Col. Norman B. Adkison, executive officer for selective service in Idaho.

Adkison said baseball players couldn't generally be deferred and that the public would feel such men could do something more vital to the war program.

11 Players Sign With Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 (AP)—Eleven players, including seven infielders, have signed with the Philadelphia Athletics for 1943, it was announced today.

Contracts were received yesterday from first baseman Bruce Konopka of the University of Southern California; shortstop Pete Suder, third baseman Eddie Mayo of Los Angeles, rookie second baseman Irv Hall, shortstop Dick Adkins, and third baseman Frank Skaff, formerly with Lowell of the New England league.

Ross Honored With Memorial

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—If there's a fellow in the house who can toss bouquets halfway around the world, Barney Ross has his hospital cot in the Pacific as covered with flowers today as a bride's path to the altar.

This is not to say that Corporal Barney is getting married, because his nuptials were performed long before he became a hero for Uncle Sam's marines by knocking off 22 Japs on Guadalcanal. But last night the boxing writers of New York handed the one-time welterweight world champ the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque as fistiana's "mah of the year" for 1942.

Ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker keynoted the affair as he made formal presentation of the plaque, given annually in memory of the Associated Press sports writer and war correspondent who was killed during the war in Spain in 1938. Col. Harvey (Heinie) Miller accepted the plaque on behalf of the marines and Corporal Barney.

Colonel Miller, a past president and permanent executive secretary of the National Boxing association, reviewed that night of last Nov. 19 when Barney, wounded and suffering from fever, stayed in a fox-hole to open fire with machine gun fire against a detachment of Japs. In the course of the evening's proceedings, Barney kayoed 22 of the Japs for keeps.

"That Barney, well over the age the marine corps likes in its combat troops, picked nothing softer than a private's billet in a marine corps combat unit, speaks well of the little fellow who is not here tonight," Colonel Miller said.

Women's Meet Goes to Boise

Inability to get the Twin Falls bowling alleys has forced the Idaho State Women's Bowling association to shift the annual state tournament to Boise, it was announced here today by Mrs. Mary Gilkey, state president.

The tournament will open on the Twentieth Century alleys on Friday and continue through Sunday, with championship events in team, doubles and singles.

Four teams from Twin Falls will compete in the state sessions, it was reported today by Mrs. Gladys Shirey, city association president.

The teams and their members:

Bowladrome — Brinegar, Weiler, Patton, Hoover and Henry; Coca Cola — Cusick, Bardell, Peay, Mc-Roberts, Hogue, McVey; Safeway — Kleinkopf, Cowham, Bigley, Wynn, Albin; Rogerson—Vazquez, Rogers, Gilkey, Shaw, Greene and Lewis.

State officers for the organization are Mrs. Gilkey, Twin Falls, president; D. Howard, Pocatello, vice-president; Mrs. Shirey, Twin Falls, secretary; A. Moon, Boise, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Wolfenbarger, Boise, sergeant-at-arms.

Notre Dame Cage Mentor Succumbs

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 18 (AP) —George Keogan, basketball coach at Notre Dame university for the past 20 years, died last night of heart disease. He was 53.

Keogan died while reading a newspaper at his home after directing afternoon practice for the team which was preparing for its game with Great Lakes Saturday night.

BERGMAN NAMED COACH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Arthur (Dutch) Bergman, former mentor at Catholic university, today was named head football coach of the professional championship Washington Redskins.

Hollister Wins After Failing on 13 Free Throws

CASTLEFORD, Feb. 18 — Hollister high had 13 shots at the basket from the charity line and made many a one here last night.

But that didn't keep Coach "Boots" Irvin's quintet from downing the Castleford Wolves 28-18 in this evening an earlier defeat by the Wolves.

Lanning and Edwards each made 10 points as Hollister led 10-3 at the end of the first quarter and 16-9 at the half. Gene Brown was the Castleford leader with five points.

Hollister's poor aim at the basket probably was due to lack of practice. The team hasn't able to use its gym for nearly a month until this week. Snow had caved in the roof.

DiMag Wants Combat Duty

By DAN M'GUIRE

PRESIDIO OF MONTEREY, Calif., Feb. 18 (UP)—Private Joseph Paul DiMaggio hoped today that he would be assigned to combat duty.

But the "Yankee clipper" said he was afraid the army would assign him to physical conditioning or morale work.

DiMaggio, who left baseball's highest paid job for the duration, heard his first reveille today and lined up with other recruits for his army uniform, innoculations and intelligence tests.

He hoped he would be treated like any other private, but as a grizzled sergeant here said:

"DiMaggio will be a celebrity around here whether he likes it or not."

Gets Tests Today

The program today called for tests which may determine if DiMaggio will be assigned to officer candidate school. But the possibility he might be wearing gold braid before long failed to impress the classic, broadshouldered DiMaggio.

"I'll ready and willing to serve in any kind of a unit," he said. "I'll all up to the army now. I'll be in there pitching wherever they put me."

By the time his train pulled out of San Francisco last night, it was well known at way stations that DiMaggio was abroad, and townsmen turned out to wave as the train lumbered through their cities. DiMaggio smiled and waved in return.

'Army Counts'

DiMaggio, who was issued army number 2 9,124,403, discussed baseball without enthusiasm. "The army's all that counts now," he said. He has no plans for any time between now. He brought no baseball equipment with him, although many fellow recruits did.

He was cool and at ease as he received his first orders from a grizzled sergeant, who told one inductee to "wipe that smile of your face." A lieutenant apologized for the non-com's bluntery manner, but DiMaggio said he didn't mind. His departure from San Francisco was simple—as he had wanted. None of his family was present, although hundreds of North Beach neighbors came to see him off.

Besides his parents and a brother at North Beach, where he played his first baseball in sandlot, DiMaggio left his wife, the former Dorothy Arnold, and his 16-months-old son, Joseph Patrick.

INSPECTIONS SET FOR 'VOL' UNITS

Inspection of all companies in the Twin Falls county battalion of the Idaho volunteer reserves will be held next week and the early part of the following week, Lieut. Col. L. W. Folsom, battalion commanding officer, announced.

Colonel Folsom advised the regular meeting of the battalion staff that Col. C. V. Martin, Boise, head of the state guard and the IVR, will accompany the inspecting officers to Buhl and Filer next Monday night, Feb. 22.

The battalion commander said plans are now being made for a field day in early spring with all companies in the county to take part. He revealed that the county reserve enrollment is second largest in the entire state.

Capt. Milton Parsons, Buhl, battalion communications officer, reported progress is being made in the effort to secure authority for use of a 2½-meter wave band for radio communication between companies of the county. He told of sending and receiving equipment already assembled by some companies.

Capt. Robert H. Warner, plans and training officer, announced that the public is invited to attend any of the company inspections from Feb. 22 through the fore part of the week of March 1. He also outlined and explained military courtesy and discussed the map-reading course now being given by Lieut. Breck Fagin.

Capt. O. J. Bothne, battalion intelligence officer, outlined plans for company commanders in cooperating with his program.

Gooding 4-H Club Makes 1943 Plans

GOODING, Feb. 18—At a special meeting of Gooding county 4-H committeemen, sponsoring groups and 4-H leaders, plans were begun for the club work for 1943. County Agent E. J. Palmer presided.

Speaker was D. E. Warren, Moscow, 4-H club specialist. He discussed the purpose and meaning of club work and stressed the need for carrying on during the war period. He said that there is a definite need for increased interest in 4-H work since it all contributes to the war effort. Emphasis is placed on production, conservation of food or materials and good citizenship training.

A number of new projects are to be offered this year in addition to the usual ones, such as a war activities club and a health club. The war activities club will include 14 separate activities of which the club members can choose any five. The member will spend 10 hours on each of three five-hour completions. The health project will contain 12 lessons covering good nutrition, good health habits and safety.

Chosen to serve on the 4-H council for Gooding were Bud Welle, president; Walter Darling, vice-president; Mrs. Roger McMahan, secretary-treasurer; Sam Sullivan, community committeeman for boys' work, and Mrs. John Kornher, committeewoman for girls' work.

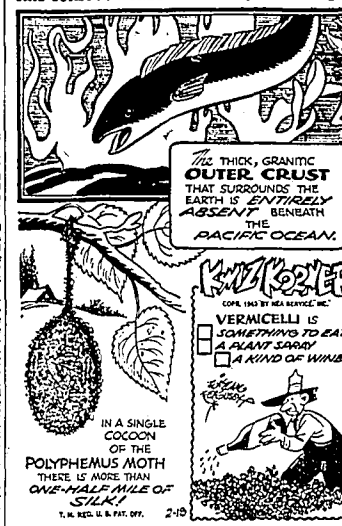
THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson



ANSWER: A food similar to spaghetti.

Beymer Lauds Service Given By Red Cross

That men in the armed forces have a high regard for the American Red Cross, not only for its relief of the suffering but for its many other services as well, was demonstrated again recently in a letter from Dr. Charles B. Beymer, Twin Falls physician who has been stationed in a naval base hospital in the south Pacific for the last nine months.

Dr. Beymer was particularly grateful for the movies which the Red Cross field service is providing the "boys down under."

"We see movies rather frequently now in an outdoor space under the cocoanut palms," he wrote. Of course they are all old, but because of the few I have seen in the past few years, they are all new to me. The same movies are shown two evenings. Those that have been here include the Cisco Kid, Design for Scandal, Comrade X, Nazi Agent, The Old Maid. The other night out in the rain we saw Dorothy Lamour in Typhoon so we had a very appropriate setting for the south sea picture."

Particularly because of the large amount of rain where he is stationed, Dr. Beymer indicated that he'll be glad to return to Idaho when it's all over.

"I'm sure that when I finish this experience I will appreciate some sage brush and desert," he wrote. "I really think it would be beautiful."

Because many of the men's gift packages did not arrive in time for Christmas, Dr. Beymer had still more praise for the Red Cross "because it remembered everyone with a package containing hard candies, pressed fruit, gum, cigarettes, razors, shaving soap and other luxuries."

Those in charge of the Red Cross war relief campaign starting March 2 pointed to Dr. Beymer's commendation of the organization as further reason why everyone should support the drive liberally.

WAR STAMPS TO TOP DOLLAR DAY

The Times-News is carrying advertisements of more than 50 items being offered by the Twin Falls merchants. Reductions of as much as $1 have been made in some spring stocks advertised.

E. H. Gyer, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, predicted stamp sales of at least $750 during the day. He said a survey by the committee had revealed 100 per cent cooperation from the merchants, for which he expressed his appreciation.

The event has been made especially attractive to both Twin Falls and Magic Valley buyers by a 50 per cent reduction in his fares within the city and the offering of four $25 war bonds as prizes for customers coming from outside the city.

In offering the $25 bonds, the Merchants' bureau committee also had the saving of rubber for the war effort in mind. The $25 bonds will be offered as follows:

1. To the owner of the automobile which brings the largest number of adults to the most man-miles to Twin Falls.

2. To the owner of the automobile which brings the next largest number of adults the most man-miles to Twin Falls.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Stocks ran battle reverses on Thursday as selling, touched off by a bank statement which failed to show any reduction in the nation's war expenditures, turned into a rout.

The list as a whole declined to the year's lowest levels in many cases. Transactions totaled around one million shares.

Trades suffering losses were those in the aircraft, shipbuilding, steel, motor, rail and other divisions which have been in the forefront of the recent buying movement.

THE TERRIBLE EYE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

If only Jonah Logan can get to see Henry L. Channing, the multi-millionaire camera king, he's sure he can sell him on the merits of "The Terrible Eye," his amazing invention to picture events in the past as they actually happened. Meanwhile, he meets Channing's daughter, Hildy, and promises to help her elope, against her father's wishes. Jonah himself is heart-broken, for he loved Hildy at first meeting. When Hildy blesses him in gratitude for his help, he wonders if there is still hope for him.

CHAPTER X

On the following morning, long before Jonah Logan and Mahoney were ready to depart to interview Chester Saxon, Mr. Henry L. Channing entered what he was pleased to call his "den." This was a tastefully furnished room at the back of the house. It had pine-paneled walls and three west-facing oriental on the broad-beamed floor. At one end of the room was a large flat-topped desk. The windows, festooned by long mulberry-colored drapes, gave upon a garden inhabited exclusively by summer flowers.

From this chamber Mr. Channing, when not governing in his New York office, was wont to keep his finger on the pulse of the Channing Camera Empire.

Crossing the room now, Mr. Channing lowered himself into his desk chair. This operation was somewhat reminiscent of an elderly locomotive being deposited by a crane. Once he was settled, an expression of grimness arranged itself upon the Channing visage. Mr. Channing always grew grim when about to transact business. He reached out, pressed a desk button.

Miss Meath appeared from an ante-chamber, like something sent for by Aladdin. She was conveyed by a pencil and notebook.

"Ah, Meath," said Mr. Channing. "Good morning." As he spoke he picked up the first of the letters, all of which were marked "personal," and slit the envelope. For a second he read, brows furrowed.

"Take a letter, Meath," roared Mr. Channing. "To the Ace-Full-ome Photographic Supply Company, Inc., Muskegon, Mich. . . . ha-rumphh! . . . Gentlemen: Your dunning communication of the 15th to hand. And let me tell you that no one but a jackass, such as the sender of your letter, would have the effrontery to suggest a further extension of credit on an invoice already three months overdue. . . . Got that, Meath?"

Meath had it. Instead, the whorls and doodles in her shorthand book read: "Your valued inquiry of the 15th ultimo has been received. We are sorry to have to inform you that it has never been our policy to extend credit beyond the 10th day of the month following date of purchase . . ."

And so it went for half an hour, with Mr. Channing proposing and Meath dispecting. Then, all at once, there came a hiatus.

"Wh-wh-wh-whin-eeee," said a fearful voice, close to the window.

Mr. Channing rose from his chair like a flushed partridge. "Good God! What's that?"

"I think," said Meath dispassionately, "that it's the horse. The one that roams at large."

She was correct. Bucephalus, a sprig of greenery depending from his muzzle, poked his head in at the window.

Mr. Channing regained a measure of aplomb.

"Beat it!" thundered the overlord of the Channings. He advanced to the window and promptly emitted an excited blast. "Hi! Get your feet out of those flowers."

At that point Mr. Calvin Meggs loomed moonily on the horizon.

"Calvin!" boomed Mr. Channing. "You, Calvin! Take this confounded zebra out of my garden."

Mr. Meggs drifted up in his whimsical way. "Tsk, tsk," breathed Mr. Meggs, like one who is privy to the desecration of a temple. "Zebra?" He patted a loving hand upon the nose of Bucephalus. "Come away from the flowers, dearie."

"Henry," said Mr. Meggs, clearing his throat, "I am here to talk business. One way or another, I have amassed the sum of $13.75. I assume that you are prepared to cover it at the prevailing odds?"

Mr. Channing regarded his brother-in-law pityingly. "I am in the midst of important correspondence and you come to me babbling about $13.75. Go away, Calvin!"

Mr. Meggs shook his head. "No, Henry, I must remind you of our little agreement. You undertook to cover any further monies I might take, at four to one."

"Oh, all right." Mr. Channing waved his hands exasperatingly.

Mr. Channing sank back into his chair. "Well, where was I?" he said. "Where was I?"

Before Meath could tell him, there came another interruption. The door of the den opened discreetly.

A plump, pretty woman in a kind of flowing house-gown stood on the threshold. She had a calm and pleasant face.

"I'm sorry to disturb you, lovey," she said, in a somewhat detached way. "But I really must speak to you."

"Clarissa," he snorted, "how many times have I told you never to interrupt me during—er—business hours?"

"But, lovey," Mrs. Channing pointed out, reasonably, "I thought you were on vacation."

He glowered at her. "Good God, woman, a man in my position can't take a real vacation. I've got to watch my business every minute. What do you think would happen to the sales curve if I didn't? How do you think we'd live? How do you think we'd eat?"

"Eat?" said Mrs. Channing dreamily. "That reminds me. I'll have to call the caterer."

"Well, call the confounded caterer, Clarissa."

"Why, lovey," Mrs. Channing said, round-eyed, "I didn't come here to call the caterer. I came about that diamond tiara you promised me."

"Eh?" Mr. Channing jumped. "I promised you no diamond tiara."

"Henry Livingstone Channing, you certainly did. You said that for my birthday I could have a diamond tiara. And I've found just the one I want. They're holding it at Brown, Moon & Shaw's. And my birthday is next Monday."

"Woman," said Henry L. Channing, "you're mad. Here we have an upset condition. The world is seething with war. International gangsters are rampant. The country is in a state of chaos. And you gibber about diamond tiaras."

"Henry, you promised. You're an Indian giver."

"You do not understand the correct usage of that term, I said, Clarissa, that if business warranted I might give you a diamond tiara. Well, business doesn't warrant."

"But," said Mrs. Channing placidly, "you can spend huge sums on your race horses. I happen to know, for example, that you've wagered a large sum with Calvin. Besides, Henry, what are you going to do with all your money? You can't take it with you, as they say. You have only one child, who is amply provided for. No," concluded Mrs. Channing, like some vague Fairful filling up to the Q. E. D., "on the whole, you may as well invest in a tiara."

"What," demanded H. L. Channing, like a bastion weakening, "do you propose to pay for this bauble?"

"Only $10,000. And it's cheap at the price, lovey."

At the mention of this staggering figure Miss Meath, bending discreetly over her notebook, controlled an involuntary start. But one ear seemed to cock itself.

PRICE, LABOR AID LOOM FOR SPUDS

With Idaho's Joe Marshall holding the national convention floor three times, the nationwide gathering of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Shippers association at Chicago received tentative OPA assurance that potato ceilings will be retained.

Which's more, war production board representatives told the 1,600 growers and shippers that they will "help in every way we can" to see that potato farmers get sufficient labor.

Problems in Spotlight

The labor and ceiling problems formed two of the spotlight matters at the big gathering in Chicago's Drake hotel. Mr. Mar had laid Wednesday night following his return. That "potato king" was accompanied to Chicago by F. S. Harper, Twin Falls dealer. Idaho's total delegation was 15, and the Idaho advertising committee arranged a display of entire Idaho baking spuds that was viewed by several thousand persons.

Fried potatoes were served at one of the two main banquets of the convention.

Mr. Marshall, theme in this three appearances on the convention floor was that too many farmers had farm workers have been taken away by war work and the army draft. He warned the national session that this drain has left producers with too little help and with too much inexperienced help. "Food comes first," he told the 1,600 conventioneers. "An army can't fight if it doesn't eat."

Wants Help Back

He cited Napoleon's disastrous invasion of Russia and warned, "We'll be in the same fix if this goes on. Give us back our help and we'll get the food out."

Marshall said his greatest surprise came in the fact that many shippers and producers from widely scattered regions of the country sought him out personally to tell him that a Twin Falls Times-News article and editorial concerning the farm labor drain, quoting him in hard-hitting language, received nationwide circulation.

"They told me," he said, "that the article did more good than anything else in starting the ball rolling to relieve the situation."

Bus Charge Cut For Dollar Day

Twin Falls residents desiring to participate in the "victory dollar day" sale to be staged by the merchants of the Centennials business Saturday will be transported at half fare by the Twin Falls Motor Transit company over its four lines, the committee in charge announced.

This action carried with it a patriotic motif. By using the facilities of the transit company local residents will be able to save rubber by keeping their private automobiles in the garage.

The committee also announced that Mrs. Pearle Alsworth, chairman of the women's staff of the Twin Falls county war savings staff, had agreed to provide volunteer saleswomen for the war stamp booths to be established in the participating stores.

German Morale Hits Lowest Level of War, Reports Say

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 18 (AP)—German morale has hit the lowest level of the war, and it is questionable whether Hitler can lift it out of the depths he has in the past with military victories.

People who have recently been in Germany, the nazi press and Swedish newspapers confirm this view. Perhaps especially significant are reports of how heavily the terror of bombings is hitting the German people, and how wounded soldiers describe the "hell" on the eastern front and express hope they won't have to go back.

These sources give the following picture of the causes of sinking spirits inside Germany and signs of nazi uneasiness:

Root of Gloom

At the root of the gloom and depression are the rapidity with which Germany is being brought into the "front lines" through RAF bombings and the hard-hits of the nazi home folks, as a result of the "impact of heavy" casualties, the "drastic stripping of the war-weary" German of everything but the barest necessities in order build more merciless gear to new effort on the other, and shaken confidence in Hitler as a soldier-genius especially among the soldiers, as a result of military defeats.

All this is against a backdrop suggestive of 1918. The Deutscher Allgemeine Zeitung recently recalled the slogan, "Do the Opposite From 1918."

Although morale is bad, no crackup should be expected "as a decisive military defeat" becomes plain to every German. In this connection it must be remembered always that the nazis set armed the Germans and wiped out the oppositional political leadership so effectively that there are no elements of counter-organization in strength.

Hiring Women

Heinrich Himmler, Hitler's watchdog, is taking no chances. A precampaign to draw recruits for his private army intended mainly for use during internal crises has been running for weeks. He is recruiting police and SS troops from elected and other Nazi men, and for the field by enrolling women.

For years the SS has been quietly taking over strategically located cities and apartments in the cities for use as "small" arsenals and strongpoints in case of trouble.

How hard the war has struck German homes is amply described by the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

"In the last year the war has heavily burdened not only the warriors at the front, but also many persons in the homeland," it said. "British terror from the air has hit seriously the German cities heavier than heretofore. Gaps in families have opened more and more and many new graves have been added to those on the battlefields in the east and Africa."

Germans "Too Shaken"

Many Germans evacuated from bombed districts were described as "too shaken" to give a coherent picture of what happens during a heavy raid.

Cities such as Berlin and Vienna are overcrowded. It is estimated that Berlin is housing a million persons more than normally. A great percentage of persons from bombed areas are staying with relatives in Berlin because it is not attacked so frequently.

"The situation is so serious that travel into the capital has been stopped except for those on legitimate business.

The soldiers, who heretofore regarded themselves and their leadership as invincible, have watched Hitler dismiss generals who led them to victory after victory. And now with reverses piling on and a long absence from home, the soldiers are becoming tired and discouraged, and complain of how unfair they have been in their allies.

What Soldier Wants

A story making the rounds at the front illustrates the frame of mind:

One soldier asked another what he would like to have. He answered: "The winter clothing of the Russian soldier, the food the British Tommy gets, the planes we have at home, and Hitler as the unknown soldier."

Last April's reduction in food rations, too, is beginning to have effects now on health. The people are very susceptible to colds and illness, and are constantly tired, nervous and irritable. Food and other supplies are compared to a rubber band which can be stretched more and more but one day will snap.

GAR Ladies Will Give Tea Party

HANSEN, Feb. 18—The Washington's tea party at 2 p.m. Tuesday will feature a patriotic program with the ladies of the Dan McCook circle of the Grand Army of the Republic furnishing a portion of the entertainment and ladies of the Hansen G.A.R. the remainder. The affair will be open to the public. It will be in honor of the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington.

Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Howard, the Scout leader, will present skit, while the glee club sang, under supervision of Mrs. Leb Slyter, will also present a number.

Elmer C. Ross, a member of the USDA war board, will speak on point rationing.

RESCUED FLIERS GET REST, FOOD

McCALL, Idaho, Feb. 18 (AP)—It was "thick steaks and French fries" and plenty of rest today for three amazing young army airmen who tramped for two weeks through deep snowdrifts to reach safety after their bomber crash-landed on a frozen mountain lake.

The three arrived here late yesterday on a sled pulled behind a tractor. Two of them had reached a forest ranger station a day earlier to telephone for help while the third was left six miles farther back at an abandoned CCC camp because his feet were frozen and he had a knee injury.

"I don't mind saying there were several times when I was badly scared," said Lt. Adgate B. Schermerhorn, 24, of Ausable Chasm, N. Y., leader of the trio.

"One night just after we had crossed a creek we heard animals howling in the distance and drawing closer and closer. We thought they were wolves but we weren't sure. Anyway we counted our bullets and prayed hard, and the animals didn't bother us after all."

Schermerhorn and Staff Sgt. Edward M. Prentice, 19, of Seattle, were uninjured from the ordeal. Staff Sgt. Ralph Pruitt, 20, of Wichita, Kan., had both feet frozen and his knee hurt.

A medical corps officer told them all to get plenty of rest here before they will be taken by automobile 125 miles to Gowen field army air base at Boise.

The three were members of a crew of eight who rode the bomber, based at Mitchord field, Tacoma, Wash., in the crash-landing Jan. 29. The three set out from the plane Feb. 2 seeking help but the other five remained with the craft. They were rescued last Sunday after a civilian flier sighted them and landed his ski-equipped plane on the lake.

17-Year-Olds Go To Navy Training

Three 17-year-olds left the Twin Falls navy recruiting office Wednesday for Boise to be sworn into the navy.

The three were Andrew Jackson Jones, son of Mrs. Betty Jones, Hailey; Edward Norman Corrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Corrigan, Hailey, and Calvin Jones, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Carey.
